THE WEATHER

"Cool and probable rain" is the cheering forecast for Western Pennsylvania sent out from Washington last evening. "Fair Wednesday" may have a veiled threat in it, as the word "fair" has come to be reckoned the equivalent of "sizzling" in local weather annals. Yesterday was one of the days that make records in Pittsburgh Junes. As detailed elsewhere it has had but two days of the same date in its own class in three decades. It helped to swell the unpopularity that June has been gathering since Friday of last week, and is an indication that the summer resorts which prosper from Pittsburgh patronage will have an early start this year. The sun rose at 4:47 clear and set at 7:34 cloudy. The following report is furnished by the local office of the United States weather bureau:

STANDING BY PAUL MORTON

Mr. Roosevelt Defends His Secretary of Navy Against Attacks.

ENDS CONTROVERSY

HAS DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.

Just as he stood by Gen. Leonard Wood, so is President Roosevelt going to stand by Paul Morton, the secretary of the navy, in connection with the charges of rate discrimination by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad.

As he closed the Sampson-Schley controversy with a review from the White House, so the president will attempt to put a quietus on the agitation about the connection of Mr. Morton with rebates granted by the Santa Fe railroad, of which he was formerly vice president. In reply to a letter from Mr. Morton, the president has written a letter reviewing the Santa Fe case. A statement embodying these letters will be made available for publication probably tomorrow. It is the president's desire to clear Mr. Morton, but at the same time to avoid showing any disposition to backtrack in his purpose to correct the rebate evil or to abate his advocacy of railroad rate legislation.

No Connection With Rebates.

Mr. Morton informed the president that he had no connection with the rebates which the Santa Fe is alleged to have given to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. These rebates were the target of the prosecution. The president has been in possession of a circular issued in 1902 by Traffic Manager Biddle, calling the attention of all agents to the recently enacted Elkins law and directing compliance therewith in every particular. This circular was issued by direction of Mr. Morton, under whose jurisdiction lay the freight traffic business of the system. Despite this circular, certain rates prevailing in the southwest were not corrected. The Santa Fe railroad claims that no one was injured by the continuance of the previously fixed tariffs, but there was apparently a technical violation of law which, Mr. Morton explained to the president, would not have occurred had orders been obeyed.

Will Silence All Complaints.

President Roosevelt is said to be confident that his statement regarding the Santa Fe case will silence completely the cry that he was inconsistent in seeking more railroad legislation when he would not use existing laws against a confessed rebate giver in his own cabinet. It appears that the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company rebates are the ones involved in the prosecution of the Santa Fe. Information has reached the president that the basis of certain attacks made upon Mr. Morton were erroneous. These attacks charged Mr. Morton with declaring on the witness stand in San Francisco in 1902, in response to questions from an attorney:

"Yes, we give rebates. We tried the experiment of being honest and living strictly up to the letter of the law, but found it so costly that we did as the Roman did."

T. J. Norton, the attorney who asked the questions, has written that Mr. Morton was not in the court, but that the statement was made by W. A. Bissell, assistant freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe.

The president is said to be actuated in his course by the belief that many of the attacks upon Mr. Morton have been made with the intention of striking the president. So he makes the cause of Mr. Morton his own.

HEAT KILLS THE GERM.

The Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis Epidemic is Practically Ended in New York.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Special.)—Vanquished by the recent hot wave after a hard struggle, the germ of cerebro-spinal meningitis is rapidly disappearing. Figures for the last week show that the epidemic is practically ended.

Since the first of the year cerebro-spinal meningitis has taken 1,607 lives in New York city, of which 1,174, or more than 73 per cent, were of children under 15 years. The normal death rate from meningitis is less than 150 for this period. Last year's epidemic had a death list of 862.

It is believed here that an extraordinary session of the riksdag, to be held Wednesday, will take action looking to the prevention of a further rupture.

SECRETARY HAY CALLS ON PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Secretary Hay arrived from New York this evening. He called at the White House and was at once received by the president, with whom he spent the greater part of the evening. The secretary is expected to remain in Washington but a few days, and will spend the summer at his home on Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire.

"LEST WE FORGET."

NEITHER NATION WANTS ARMISTICE

Russia Believes She Is on the Eve of Winning a Great Land Victory.

JAPAN READY TO HUMOR HER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese minister, called at the White House today to inform the president that the Japanese plenipotentiaries would be able to reach Washington the first part of August, if it was deemed desirable for them to be here by that time. The personnel of the mission has not yet been announced.

When the president returned to the executive offices after receiving Mr. Takahira, he found Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, awaiting him. The information brought by the minister was communicated to the ambassador, who is cabling his government tonight to find out when the Russian mission will arrive. When this is known it will be possible to decide upon a date for the conference. The general belief is it will convene about the middle of August.

Japan will not ask for an armistice, insisting that the initiative must come from Russia. The optimistic reports of the last few days, received in St. Petersburg from the front, have greatly raised the hopes of the Russians that a land victory is near, and the war party is opposed to the sending of a request for an armistice at this time.

Japan is not at all desirous of a temporary cessation of hostilities, for between now and the beginning of the rainy season in August, Oyama is expected to accomplish great achievements in Manchuria. However, after the plenipotentiaries have been appointed the informal discussion of an armistice will be resumed, and in case the president takes the initiative in suggesting a limited truce, both belligerents will give the matter serious consideration.

Mr. Takahira will leave tomorrow morning for Tuft's college, where he will deliver the address upon the fiftieth anniversary of the college, and will receive the degree of doctor of laws. The minister will return to Washington in time to meet the president on his arrival Friday.

TRUE BILLS ARE READY IN BEEF TRUST CASES

Indictments to Be Presented to the Federal Grand Jury at Chicago.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 19.—That more than 30 true bills have been prepared by Assistant Attorney General Oliver E. Pagin for presentation to the federal jury when it assembles Wednesday to resume the beef trust inquisition, was the information given out today in the office of the United States district attorney.

United States District Attorney Charles B. Morrison has, however, announced that further testimony may be taken when the grand jury reconvenes, and its findings therefore may be postponed until the close of the week, or even later.

It is rumored that certain testimony upon which Indictments under the Sherman anti-trust law might be predicated is lacking, and to elicit the desired evidence additional witnesses may be examined. For this purpose the jury has ample time, as its functions do not lapse until July 1.

SHOOTS THREE PERSONS BECAUSE REFUSED DRINK

Brint Rowland is alleged to have done the shooting because refused a drink. It is not thought any are fatally shot. A crowd gave Rowland a terrible beating. He is in jail.

WALLACE TO LEAVE CANAL FOR GOOD

Report Has Its Inception in Influential Circles at the Isthmus.

APPRECIATED BY EMPLOYES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLON, June 19.—It was publicly announced that John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the canal zone, who sailed for the United States June 16, was going home by order of Secretary Taft for the purpose of a consultation on important matters prior to the sailing of the secretary for the Philippines, and that he was not likely to return to the isthmus until his annual report had been written and he had secured a short rest, which he was unable to take on his last trip, owing to pressure of business.

Since the departure of Mr. Wallace, however, it has been said in influential circles that he does not intend to return to the isthmus to resume his position of chief engineer, but that he has gone home to confer with Secretary Taft on the subject of his resignation.

The fact that Mr. Wallace went home accompanied by his wife, and his two secretaries, seems in some quarters to lend credence to the rumor that he does not intend to return.

Shortly before he sailed, Mr. Wallace was the recipient of a memorial from the heads of departments, on behalf of the canal employes, expressing deep appreciation of the benefits resulting from the new schedule of hours and wages, and from the betterment in the general welfare of all connected with the work on the canal.

ROSEWELL WAITE IS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

He Will Now Be Tried for the Alleged Shooting of Policeman Atkinson.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, June 19.—Rosewell Waite, who has been on trial here since last Monday for the killing of Policeman Frank Skidmore, was tonight convicted of manslaughter. The jury deliberated seven hours. The verdict carries a maximum penalty of 12 years.

After the verdict was announced Waite expressed disappointment and said: "I am innocent of any crime and should have been cleared." The verdict is regarded as a decisive victory for the defense and turned upon a question of law affecting the rights of police officers to make arrests except upon actual view of the commission of a felony or a breach of the peace. Waite will now be tried on a charge of felonious assault with intent to kill and murder for the alleged shooting of Policeman John Atkinson at the same time Skidmore was killed. When arraigned before Mayor Hainer the day after his capture Waite pleaded guilty to this charge.

Will Go to Oil City.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(Special.)—E. Talbot Brooks, formerly a draughtsman in the office of the supervising architect of the treasury, has been appointed superintendent of construction of the public building at Oil City. His salary will be $1,600.

SAVES THE DOG; KILLS THE GIRL

Rosa Apfelbaum Steps in Front of Express Wagon and Is Knocked Down.

SCHOOLBOY IS KILLED BY CAR

Rosa Apfelbaum, 2 years old, was killed last evening in front of her home in Bedford avenue by an Adams Express Company wagon which drove over her. The little girl was playing with another child, Annie Larkin.

James Crehan, who lives in Stanwix street, was the driver of the wagon. He had delivered a package in Hickory alley, and as he turned into Bedford avenue he saw a little dog sitting in the street. Crehan yelled at the dog, and as the animal did not move he drew his horses to one side so as not to run over the dog. Just then the two children stepped off the sidewalk. Rosa Apfelbaum was knocked down by the horse and a front wheel of the wagon passed over her hips. She was dead when picked up.

Crehan sprang from his wagon and rushed to the little girl's side. No attempt was made to molest him. He drove his horses to the stable and then went to the Central police station. "I am an express wagon driver," he said, "and I accidentally killed a little child. I have come to give myself up."

Crehan was heartbroken over the accident. He is married and within the last year he has lost two of his own children by death. He was detained at the police station until the coroner could communicate with H. C. Schoyer, chief clerk at the local office of the express company. Schoyer entered $2,000 bail for Crehan, who was then released.

William Schumm, aged 11 years, was killed yesterday while on his way to the Bellefield school by an outbound Wilkinsburg car, in Fifth avenue, near St. Pierre street. The boy was killed in the presence of his brother and sister. The brother, Carl, fainted at the sight and had to be taken home.

WILL AID ITS OWN REFORM

Philadelphia's Republican Party Pledges This by Its City Committee.

ANXIOUS TO BEGIN

Committee of Seventy, However, Will Put an Independent Ticket in the Field.

MORE EMPLOYES DISMISSED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 19.

Reform within the party, as proposed by the 21 members of the Union league, was today considered and indorsed by the Republican city campaign committee which met this afternoon. Chairman Miles submitted the letter to him addressed by Joseph G. Darlington, chairman of the committee of 21.

Every member of the campaign committee was present. After the letter from the league members had been read, David H. Lane offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, The Republican campaign committee hereby declares that we fully realize the responsibilities of the present emergency and have the single desire to take such action as may best preserve the integrity and future usefulness of our party. This committee derives its existence and authority from the Republican electors under the laws of Pennsylvania and the rules of the Republican party. This is the body legally constituted to manage the present campaign. It is the only body legally constituted under the laws and rules of the party to fill vacancies on the ticket. And we must meet the duties imposed on us under the law so that nominations for the important county offices to be filled in November may be legally made to have a place upon the official ballot. We welcome at all times suggestions and co-operation from prominent and influential members of our party not officially connected with the party organization.

Reforms Are Promised.

We received the communication signed by Mr. Joseph G. Darlington and his associates laying down certain suggestions for a change of candidates and reform within the party, with a desire to co-operate on the lines suggested. In sincerity and good faith we pledge this organization to make every effort to secure the enactment of a personal registration law, and generally to bring about reform on the lines laid down in the communication referred to.

With this end in view, the chairman of the Republican campaign committee is directed to communicate with the candidates and ascertain whether they or any of them are willing to withdraw from the ticket, and be be further directed to appoint a committee of two members of the Republican campaign committee, who, with him as ex-officio member, shall confer with a similar committee on the part of the signers of the communication to consider the question of candidates and all other matters referred thereto.

Chairman Miles, David H. Lane and David Martin were named as conferees to meet with the 21 league members and select substitute candidates for the county ticket. It is probable the joint meeting will take place Wednesday. It is announced the present nominees are willing to withdraw in the interest of the party, and there is little doubt an entirely new set of candidates will be nominated by the campaign committee.

Israel W. Durham and Senator James P. McNichol have answered the mayor's letter offering to return their presents. Still the mayor hesitates to make public the correspondence. It is an ethical question, he says, and he is now delving into "social forms" to ascertain if it would be proper for him to publish the correspondence. It was expected at 9:30 tonight. Judge Gordon, his political mentor, told the newspapermen to be at his office at that hour and something "big" would be given out. The boys were on hand. After an hour's wait, Mr. Gordon said:

"Gentlemen, I have no announcement to make tonight."

A reporter who tried to pump Mr. Durham produced the following:

"Durham dodged all efforts to draw from him an expression of opinion on the subject of the mayor's letter. Every question that was put to him he answered with another, and the dialogue ran about as follows:

Will you make public the letter of the mayor regarding the horses and carriages you gave him last Christmas?

Did I ever say I sent him horses?

Will you tell what was in that letter?

Did I say I had received such a letter?

The mayor says it was delivered to you.

Did I say it was?

GOVERNMENT MAY AID IN WIPING OUT SPEAKEASIES

Whole Question of Co-Operation of Federal and State Authorities Is Before President Roosevelt—Heiner Submits Statement.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The contention between Dr. Warren, dairy and food commissioner of Pennsylvania, and D. B. Heiner, internal revenue collector at Pittsburgh, will soon be settled by President Roosevelt, and it will be determined by him whether it shall be incumbent upon federal officials to co-operate with the state officials in the enforcement of state laws.

Collector Heiner's statement, in reply to the complaint of Dr. Warren that he refused to help enforce the oleomargarine law, has been received by Internal Revenue Commissioner Yerkes, who will send it to the president tomorrow. Dr. Warren was here a few days ago and presented his complaint to the president in person. With the reply of Collector Heiner before him, the president will be able to decide the case, and his ruling will mark a precedent upon which the future conduct of the federal employes will be based.

If President Roosevelt decides it is the duty of federal employes to assist state and municipal officials to enforce state laws, the ruling will have wide effect. In that event it is probable that collectors of internal revenue will be obliged to certify to the police authorities all the government licenses granted for the sale of liquor, and in this way the police will be able to discover illegal sellers of liquor.

It is understood that every speakeasy proprietor who has had experience in his illicit line of business takes out a government license, for which he pays $50. He does this in preference to taking chances with the government police, since a conviction in the federal courts means a much more severe sentence than a conviction on the same charge for violation of a state law. There are other features to the case which make it of importance.

Commissioner Yerkes today declined to give any idea of the defense made by Collector Heiner, saying that the matter was one in which the president had taken a personal interest, and any information would have to come from the White House.

SUDDEN STOP TO HUMP CUT

KEPT LETTER SECRET

His Plans Spoiled by Refusal to Sign Waiver Becoming Public.

CONFERENCE ON THURSDAY

"It was a great surprise to me when I got Mr. Frick's letter stating that he would not sign a waiver of damages. I was astonished! I do not know what caused him to change his mind, for change his mind he certainly did. Two weeks ago, when I saw him last, he was in favor of the hump removal, and at that time knew all about the plans and everything that was going on."

Director Bigelow made this statement last night at his home concerning the letter from H. C. Frick to himself, which was made public yesterday. The letter stated that Mr. Frick would not sign a waiver of damages for the hump cut on the plans prepared by Director Bigelow, Mr. Frick making a new proposition to sign a waiver and pay benefits to an amount of $80,000, providing the hump cut is reduced to six feet at Fifth and Wylie avenues, instead of 15 feet, as planned by Director Bigelow.

Disapproves Frick's Offer.

This offer was made upon the condition that other owners of property in the dump district would pay their pro rata share of the cost of the improvement instead of the city issuing bonds and putting the burden on the taxpayers at large.

"Mr. Frick's proposition to take only six feet off the hump at Wylie and Fifth avenues instead of 15 feet, is utterly out of the question," said Director Bigelow. "It is not to be thought of. It would leave the Frick building half a story in the hole and would also put the court house below the surface of the street.

"I got my letter from Mr. Frick on Saturday night, but did not make it public because I was waiting for developments," added the director.

By "developments" the director evidently meant the meeting of common council which was called for last night to pass the hump ordinance under suspension of the rules and a meeting of select council which the director had planned to have called for today or tomorrow. When Director Bigelow learned yesterday, about noon, that the letter of Mr. Frick had become public, in spite of his efforts to keep it secret, he at once issued orders for the meeting of common council last night to be called off.

Council Meeting Called Off.

John A. Long, the "official quorum getter," proved himself equally successful in breaking quorums. Supt. Long and the workers who are always at call at the city hall spent a very busy afternoon. Almost every Citizen councilman was notified, either personally or by telephone, not to attend the meeting. The result was that only President Ward and one other member answered the roll call.

Director Bigelow stated last night he had learned that Mr. Frick would arrive in the city on Thursday, and that he had arranged to have a talk with him then.

"I have not said nor intimated that I will attempt to put the hump ordinance through councils in spite of Mr. Frick's objections, and I will say nothing about my future plans until I have seen Mr. Frick," said the director. It is expected that Controller Larkin may go to the aid of Director Bigelow.

"I do not regard Mr. Frick's letter as final by any means," said Controller Larkin yesterday afternoon. "He states in his letter that he will see Mr. Bigelow this week and talk the matter over. I believe that the people would vote for the hump removal whether Mr. Frick signs a waiver or not."

Hays Favors Fight.

Mayor Hays would not believe at first yesterday that Mr. Frick had refused to sign a waiver, although Director Bigelow received Mr. Frick's letter on Saturday. The mayor said that Director Bigelow had kept the fact from him. The mayor, after being convinced that the letter was genuine, declared he was in favor of passing the hump ordinance without Mr. Frick's waiver.

The letter from Mr. Frick which caused such a surprise to Director Bigelow, and which caused such a sudden shift in his plans yesterday, was dated last Friday in New York, and runs as follows:

New York, June 16, 1905.

Hon. E. M. Bigelow,
Director of the Department of Public Works,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Mr. Bigelow:

After further consideration of the subject, I have decided not to waive my claims for damages for the removal of the "hump" if the streets are cut to the grade at present contemplated. Such a cut would very seriously damage my property, and I do not believe so heavy a cut is necessary. If the street proposed to be lowered were cut upon a basis that would require the removal of six feet at the intersection of Fifth and Wylie avenues, the grade would be made sufficiently easy, and little or no damage would be done to adjoining property. It is probable that this would obviate the necessity of lowering the present sewers, water pipes, etc., and the cost of the work would be greatly lessened.

If such a plan were adopted, I would be willing to waive my claims for damages and would be willing to pay my pro rata share of the cost of the work, not exceeding the cost such share being estimated upon the front frontage of the property affected by the improvement, provided the other owners of abutting property agree to pay their shares of the cost of the work upon the same basis.

I expect to return home the latter part of next week, and would be glad to talk it over with you.

Your very truly,

H. C. FRICK.

Bigelow Plans Big Cut.

Director Bigelow had planned a cut of 11.06 feet at Wylie and Fifth avenues, where Mr. Frick proposes to make the cut only six feet. The Bigelow plans provide for a cut of 14.25 feet at the Frick building at the corner of Grant street and Fifth avenue, and to conform to the proposed cut of six feet at Wylie avenue the new cut at the Frick building would probably not amount to more than four or five feet. Mr. Frick's plan to avoid heavy damages would make a radical change in the plans for the entire hump district. The present plans provide for cuts at the principal points as follows: Court house, Grant and Fifth, 14.71 feet; court house, opposite Wylie avenue, 18.13 feet; Ross street and Fifth avenue, at jail, 13.46 feet; Grant street and Sixth avenue, 7.41 feet; Wylie and Sixth avenues, 8 feet; Diamond and Grant streets, 13.68 feet; Fourth avenue and Grant street, 6.88 feet; Cherry alley and Fifth avenue, 7.54 feet.

A cut of 18 feet at Wylie avenue, it is said, would uncover the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel and compel the company to build a new arch in the tunnel and roof it over with steel work. A cut of only six feet at Wylie avenue would not interfere at all with the tunnel, and there would be no need of any changes.

FOILS FEMALE BANDITS BY ANTIQUATED TRICK

"Ask the Man at the Door," Says Their Prey, and as Girls Look Behind He Jumps Into Cellar With Money.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

DENVER, COL., June 19.—In true western style two young women whose faces were hidden by red bandana handkerchiefs tried to rob Chester Brumbach at 5 o'clock this morning in the store of Mrs. D. K. Moore, at Twenty-fourth street and Logan avenue. Brumbach is employed as a clerk and opened the store shortly before the attempt was made. He had $300 to bank, the custom being to make deposit Monday morning of late receipts on accounts made Saturday. The young women, who entered while his attention was attracted elsewhere, knew this and one demanded the money, while both leveled revolvers at him.

"If you want the money," said Brumbach, "ask the man at the door."

Both girls looked behind them quickly, and the clerk jumped through an open cellar door into the cellar with the sack of money. The girl bandits lost their nerve and fled, driving away in a buggy. Several persons saw them leave, but they escaped.

THEY WILL WED TODAY.

McKeosport Mayor Will Perform Wedding Ceremony Ending a Romance Which Started on Ocean.

Mayor George J. Falkenstein of McKeosport is scheduled to perform a marriage ceremony this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marie Steckle that will end a romance begun on the ocean a year ago when Mrs. Steckle met Miss Camellia Claus of St. Louis, who told her she was returning to this country she again met she never saw. When Mrs. Steckle was returning to this country she again met Miss Claus and learned that the marriage did not take place because the intended groom was not to Miss Claus' liking.

The young woman returned to St. Louis, but asked Mrs. Steckle to look out for a nice young man for her. Mrs. Steckle took the remark in earnest and some time ago communicated with Miss Claus telling her about Richard Glaus of Shire Oaks, who wanted to get married, but did not know any nice girls. The two corresponded and exchanged photographs. A week ago Miss Claus came to McKeesport and was met at the Steckle residence by Glaus. They decided to get married. Glaus is 30 years old and Miss Claus 28 and an orphan.

ANOTHER HOT DAY LENGTHENS LIST

Deaths and Prostrations Follow in the Wake of the Torrid Wave.

FORECAST COOLER WEATHER

With its long list of deaths and prostrations June 19 added its part to the unhappy record of the month. With a mark for high temperature exceeded only twice in 31 years, the day proved one of the fatal ones to those who did not possess strength to withstand its attack.

The victims of the heat:

JOHN SPULICE, 17 Uxor alley, South Side.

MIKE MOTES, foreigner; died at McKeesport hospital.

MRS. ELIZABETH CARSON, aged 92 years; East McKeesport.

MRS. KATHERINE ILG, aged 68 years, 923 Rose street, McKeesport.

PEARL RUSSELL GAGE, aged 11 months, 601 Ridge avenue, Allegheny.

PROSTRATIONS.

PAUL SACOSKI, Homestead steel works; removed to his hime in Dixon street, Homestead.

JOHN MAROSKO, Homestead steel works; removed to his home in Dixon street, Homestead.

JOSEPH KANOVICH; taken to East End hospital.

UNKNOWN MAN, overcome at Thirtieth street and Liberty avenue, 9:10 p. m.; taken to West Penn hospital.

LUDWIG CLAYSMITH, Dickson street; overcome at Butler and Thirty-fourth streets; taken to West Penn hospital.

THOMAS KEEFE (supposed), overcome in Diamond street at 11 p. m.; taken to Homeopathic hospital.

UNKNOWN HUNGARIAN; overcome at Pressed Steel car works yesterday afternoon; taken to St. John's hospital, Allegheny.

MIKE STOFOSHIA, North Braddock; taken to his home.

The records of the United States weather bureau in Pittsburgh start in 1875. These records show that in 1884 and in 1887, June 19 brought in each case a temperature of 94. Outside of these two years the records show no equal for yesterday's maximum of 92. Following are the maximum records of the years of the present decade: 1900, 79; '01, 83; '02, 80; '03, 77; '04, 87. With such figures as these for five years past it is not surprising that a cry of suffering went up yesterday form all parts of Greater Pittsburgh.

The hot weather started in while the people of this community were still sleeping. These are the hourly temperature records, beginning with 1 a. m. yesterday: 1, 78; 2, 76; 3, 75; 4, 77; 5, 76; 6, 74; 7, 77; 8, 81; 9, 82; 10, 87; 11, 88; 12, 88; 1 p. m., 89; 2, 91; 3, 92; 4, 90; 5, 90; 6, 88; 7, 87; 8, 86.

John Spulice, a Pole, 30 years old and married, lived at 17 Uxor alley. He worked at the Monongahela tin plate works on the South Side. He returned home from work last evening exhausted. He forthed himself with a big swig of ice water, fell over on the floor and died in a few minutes.

Mike Mores, a foreigner, fell unconscious while at work at the Monongahela blast furnaces just after he had eaten the noon meal. He was taken to the McKeesport hospital and half an hour later was dead. The emergency hospitals at the mills have been crowded the last two days and the force greatly increased, giving temporary relief to men who are unable to continue work.

Contributes to Two Deaths.

The excessive heat contributed to the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Carson, 52 years old, of East McKeesport, and Mrs. Katerine Ilg, 68 years old, of 923 Rose street, McKeesport. Mrs. Carson had lived about East McKeesport for half a century and enjoyed excellent health until the hot wave came last week. Then she sank rapidly. She was well known throughout Allegheny and Westmoreland counties. She lived with her only son, James Carson of Broadway. Mrs. James Carson of East McKeesport and Mrs. William Rath of Turtle Creek are surviving daughters.

Mrs. Katerine Ilg was a native of Germany and lived in McKeesport for 32 years. She is survived by her husband and one son.

There was intense suffering among the workmen at the Homestead steel works on account of the heat. Three prostrations were reported: John Williams, McClure street; Paul Sacoski, Dixon street, and John Marosko, Dixon street. After receiving attention at the emergency hospital, all the men were taken to their homes.

An unknown Hungarian was overcome by heat at the Pressed Steel Car works yesterday afternoon. He is at the St. John's General hospital, Allegheny.

Falls in Diamond Street.

An unknown man, supposed to be Thomas Keefe from a pay envelope found in his pocket, was overcome by the heat in Diamond street, near the morgue, at 11 o'clock last night. He was picked up by County Detectives Robert L. McMillan and Joseph B. Kohen, and carried into the morgue, and later removed to the Homeopathic hospital. His condition is serious.

While watching the Braddock-McKeesport baseball game from the top of a box car near Thirteenth street, Braddock, yesterday afternoon, Thomas Roberts of North Braddock, was overcome by heat and fell off the car, receiving a number of ugly cuts on his head and shoulders where he fell on a pile of furnace slag. He was taken to his home.

An unknown man was overcome by heat at Thirtieth street and Liberty avenue at 9:10 last night and was sent to the West Penn hospital. At midnight he was still unconscious.

Ludwig Claysmith, aged 40, of Dickson street, was also taken to the same hospital from heat prostration. He was overcome at Thirty-fourth and Butler streets at 6:30 o'clock, but soon recovered.

Slav's Peculiar Injury.

Mike Stofoshia, a Slav, was badly bruised and cut by rolling down a steep embankment in Dooker's hollow, North Braddock, yesterday afternoon. He had worked Sunday and Sunday night at the Carnegie mills and owing to the heat he was unable to sleep in his boarding house and lay down under a tree on the hillside. He rolled over the embankment in his sleep and was cut and bruised on the head and body.

Clevrin Balandiski, aged 30, of Polish Hollow, employed as a laborer at the Jones & Laughlin steel mills, was overcome by heat yesterday while at work. He was taken to the South Side hospital, where it was said last night that he would probably recover.

Mike Mernich, an employe at the National Tube works, McKeesport, was overcome while working. He was taken to the McKeesport hospital.

LOCAL FIRM SUCCEEDS.

Pittsburgh Concern Obtains State Contract for Washington County Roads.

F. Felkel, Son & Co., a Pittsburgh firm, was yesterday awarded by the state highway department the contract for building three miles of road in Washington county. The company's bid was $82,500.

The work which the local firm will do includes a road in Robinson township leading out from Midway and one in Mt. Pleasant township leading out of Hickory.

WHILE THOUSANDS SWEAT THESE TWO ALMOST FROZEN

While thousands were suffering from the intense heat yesterday afternoon, Paul Vasila and Anthony Mikula, two foreigners, were almost frozen to death by the bursting of a tank of ammonia in the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company's plant at East Pittsburg. The ammonia is used for refrigerating purposes and the men were working with it in a vault when the tank burst, the liquid flying in all directions and drenching the men's clothing, nearly freezing both of them.

CHINAMEN HOLD PICNIC IN RIVERVIEW PARK

Members of the Second Presbyterian Church Chinese Sunday School Have Their Annual Outing.

Members of the Chinese Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian church, with the teachers and friends, spent a day in the woods in Riverview park, Allegheny, yesterday. The Chinese came and went all day, as some of them had to relieve those who were in charge of the stores and laundries. A feature of the picnic was the many Chinamen present who had discarded the queue, and not one was seen on the ground who was dressed in the native Chinese costume. There are 60 members of the Sunday school, which is the fifth largest in the United States, and all of them visited the park, some with Chinamen friends, during the day.

Small American flags were strung from Perrysville avenue to the trees in the park, so that the Chinamen who attended the picnic could find their way to the grove. About the grounds surrounding the shelter house small flags were stuck in the ground and fastened to the trees. The majority of Americans present were young women, who helped make the day pleasant for the Chinamen. The Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second church, and Gen. Homer Lea of Los Angeles, Cal., who is commander-in-chief of the Chinese cadet corps in the United States, were present during the evening and made addresses.

Shortly after sunset the committee in charge of the outing, composed of Edwin S. Gray, Yee Seng, chairman of the picnic committee, Yee Tang and Yee Shuck, had the firecrackers set off. One string of firecrackers contained 50,000 crackers and two other strings each had 35,000 crackers. These were suspended from the top of a pole and fired, and from 50 to 100 crackers exploded at a time. Supper was served in the shelter house.

CAMP TO BE NAMED IN HONOR OF CAPTAIN

Memory of Commander of the Tyrone Troops to Be Cherished by the Second Brigade.

The encampment of the Second brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania, at Erie July 15 to 23 inclusive, will be known as "Camp C. W. S. Jones," in honor of the commander of the Tyrone troop of cavalry. Capt. Jones was one of the most distinguished officers of the state guard and led his troop in Pittsburgh on the Fourth of July two years ago when President Roosevelt was the city's guest. An order containing detailed directions for the brigade encampment has been issued by Gen. John A. Wiley from his headquarters at Franklin.

Maj. Lewis A. Anshutz, quartermaster general on Gen. Wiley's staff, with the qucartermasters of the various organizations of the Second brigade, will go to Erie this week to lay out the camp which will be occupied by the Western Pennsylvania troops. Every effort will be made by the brigade commander to give each regiment, battery and troop an advantageous location and several days will be spent in the survey of the site.

"The camp of the second brigade will be located just three miles east of the public square in Erie," said Maj. Anshutz yesterday, "and it will be by long odds the finest camp the Pennsylvania soldiers have had for their summer rendezvous. A trolley line extends from the town past the site of the camp. This will give good facilities for transportation. In addition to this, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway runs along the front of the tract of land where the camp will be located. The survey and the location of the regimental camps will be quickly made and all preparations for the movement of the troops will be completed next week."

MANY DEATHS DUE TO HEAT IN THIS SECTION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. VA., June 19.—Three lives have been lost by drowning here, as a direct result of the intense heat. Joseph Riddle, 14 years old, went into the river to get cool and got beyond his depth. Joseph Johns went to his assistance and caught the boy by the neck and in his unsuccessful effort to bring him ashore was almost drowned himself. Arthur Bell, Louis Tuck and three other negroes went into the river at the wharf here at 9 o'clock this morning. Bell and Tuck clasped hands and dove from the wharfboat. Both were drowned. They had been drinking. Tuck was the son of a Parkersburg preacher.

SHARON, June 19.—One death and two prostrations from heat were reported today. After drinking ice water Michael Tomecak threw up his hands and dropped dead. Alex. Brusari and Michael Brusic, employed at a steel mill, were overcome with heat and are in a critical condition.

GREENSBURG, June 19.—During the heavy rainstorm of last night lightning struck the magazine of the Penn Gas Coal Company near Penn and the powder, dynamite and oil stored there exploded. The magazine was completely wrecked and houses within a radius of several hundred yards had windows shattered.

CONNELLSVILLE, June 19.—Bruno Largisbanna, aged 28 years, was drowned Sunday evening while bathing in the Coal Spring reservoir. Mike Molnar, aged 28 years, met a similar death in the reservoir of the Washington Coal and Coke Company at Star Junction. The body was recovered.

WOOSTER, O., June 19.—George Hart of Shrev, who has been employed in Pittsburgh, reached here this afternoon on a train which did not stop at Shreve. Hart purchased a ticket, but concluded to walk. He had gone but a few miles when he was overcome by the heat. He sat down on the track, where he was struck by a freight train and killed.

DUBOIS, June 19.—Joe Piazzi, aged 10 years, was drowned in Sandy creek this afternoon while bathing.

WILKESBARRE, June 19.—Hiram Bossart, aged 48 years, one of the best known passenger engineers in the employ of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, died suddenly today in the cab of his engine while running at full speed near Laurel Run station, a few miles from this city. His death was due to either heart failure or he was overcome by the heat and drinking too much ice water.

FAILS TO APPEAR.

Italian Under $500 Bail for Pointing Firearms Disappears.

A defective cartridge is thought to have saved Officer William Muckle of Sharpsburg from being killed by Frank Buccieri, the Italian grocer who threatened to shoot Officers Muckle and George Aschman when they arrested him Sunday night after cornering him in a doorway.

Buccieri did not appear at the office of Justice F. W. Schrandt of Sharpsburg last night when he was to receive a hearing. He was charged with wantonly pointing firearms and resisting an officer. Martin Lucca went his bail bond for $500. He disappeared from the borough yesterday morning and nothing has been heard of him at a late hour last night.

Fell from Boat and Was Drowned.

William Cousins, colored, of Allaghany, fell from the upper deck of the excursion steamer Beauty while the boat was running up the river past the Western penitentiary at 11:30 o'clock last night and was drowned. No attempt was made to recover the body, as the captain of the boat thought some one had thrown a chair into the river as a joke.

Will you make it public?
Did I say I would?
Have you answered the mayor's letter?
Did I say I had?
That is what you are being asked.
Well, don't ask me; go ask the mayor.

This was Durham's last response and the only one that was not an interrogation.

McNichol's Frank Reply.

Senator McNichol was less communicative. He smiled, but said nothing. In this fight McNichol is holding his own. For years he has been a terror to local interviewers. Now he is a philosopher.

"I have been giving you boys a chill for five years," said the senator today, "and now you are getting back good and hard. I do not blame you. Some time in the future we may meet on neutral ground, understand each other better and be friends."

This declaration of McNichol made to the representative of an unfriendly newspaper, swept quickly through the Rialto. It made him friends.

"He is a game loser," was the comment, and in this sentiment all concurred.

Mayor Weaver today received a report that the stone in the boulevard contract was not up to specifications. This work was sublet by McNichol, and he is protected by bonds given by the sub-contractor. Still, the work has been approved by the inspectors appointed by the mayor.

Amnesty was today promised the city assessors by the committee of 70. They were told they would not be prosecuted for past delinquencies if they purged the present lists and kept them straight. Another bid for public indorsement was made by Mayor Weaver, who announced that the tax rate would not be raised—that the revenues made it possible to keep it at $1 50.

Pennypacker Gives Advice.

Gov. Pennypacker was in town long enough this afternoon to give some salutary advice to the syndicate which is trying to lift itself into office by its boot straps. The governor said:

In my opinion, there is only one thing before the city at this time, and it is far more important than all reform movements. You have now an opportunity to improve your harbor. Philadelphia needs a deeper channel more than anything else. The state has appropriated $375,000 for these improvements on condition that the city appropriates a like sum. It is most important that the city shall do so. Too much stress cannot be laid upon this needed improvement. The newspapers should impress the people with this fact, and they would do a great service to your city if they advocated the appropriation.

Don't you think it is more important at this time to continue the good work of cleansing the city?

Well, that is a matter of opinion.

What is your opinion of this reform movement?

I do not care to discuss it. I act, not talk. Talking alone does no good, and there is too much talking being done now. The people of Philadelphia will solve their problems in their own way, and I have no doubt they will solve them wisely and well.

It has been reported that the resignation of Durham would help to solve this problem. Will you ask Durham to resign?

I never announce what I intend to do or contemplate doing. I do it first and then announce it.

Will Not Retract Letter.

There having been so much criticism of the action taken by the committee of 21 in suggesting that whatever reformation is to be done in the city and state should be done by the Republican party itself, 12 members of the 21 held a long meeting this afternoon to consider what they should do in view of the criticism their letter brought out. After the meeting a statement was given out, which in part is as follows:

We have carefully re-read our letter to the chairman of the Republican campaign committee and see nothing in it which in our judgment requires either apology or explanation. There was only one subject in view by the signers of that letter, and that was the purification of the Republican party and the elimination of the men in the party organization who are responsible for the present deplorable conditions in our city.

If the Republican party is to regain the confidence and respect of the people it can only be accomplished by a thorough, radical, sincere and absolutely honest reorganization, and this we believe can best be done upon an enduring basis by the Republicans themselves.

The statement also declared that the Union League club, of which the 21 who signed the letter are members, is in no manner associated with the letter.

Is Against Compromise.

The committee of nine, which was appointed at a mass meeting to fight the gas lease, and which has since pledged itself to assist Mayor Weaver in his efforts to reform municipal affairs, also held a meeting today and at its conclusion this statement was given out:

That any compromise between the people and the Republican organization at present constituted is impossible.

That this corrupt organization should be opposed by the city party (an independent party backed by the committee of 70) by every means in its power.

That the organization of the city party should be perfected in every division and every ward in the city to the end that a convention may be called within 30 days to prepare a platform of principles and to take action upon the subject of nominations for the November election.

Five policemen and one fireman were discharged today. The men had been found guilty of charges preferred against them. Isaac J. Flemming, who for 27 years has been foreman of the city hall laborers, was also dismissed for neglect of duty.

The Methodist preachers at their weekly meeting today adopted a resolution asking Gov. Pennypacker to remove from office Mr. Durham.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

TO RESUME BUYING OIL.

Standard Will Relay Pipe Line in Kansas Which Was Affected by Recent Legislation.

INDEPENDENCE, KAS., June 19.—General Manager O'Neill of the Prairie Oil & Gas Co., today made the announcement that the Standard Oil Company will resume work in the Kansas oil field and will relay the pipe line to the heavy oil district and pay 25 cents a barrel for all oil grading between 22 and 28 degrees in quality.

This order affects the heavy grade oil output at Wayside, Drumm Creek, Coffeyville, Cherryvale and Chanute, which was cut off by the curtailment order issued last spring following the passage of stringent laws by the last legislature. The Standard Oil Company did not stop taking high grade oil in Kansas, notwithstanding reports to the contrary.

A certificate of incorporation was filed at Dover, Del., yesterday for the National Cast Steel Company of Allegheny. The charter authorizes the company to deal in iron, steel and other metals, and to manufacture all kinds of articles therefrom.

The company's capital is $300,000. Its incorporators are Lyman S. Ailes of Allegheny and Ira C. Ewing and Homer W. Case of Wilkinsburg.

SPARK IGNITES FIREWORK, EXCITING FIRE FOLLOWS

A spark ignited the display of fireworks in the window of Higinbotham Brothers' store, 916 Fourth street, Braddock, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and caused an exciting fire. Skyrockets and Roman candles cut loose in all directions, breaking the windows and driving out the occupants of the store. The whole display of fireworks was set off and considerable other stock in the storeroom was damaged.

Etna Police After a Bold Robber.

Etna police are investigating a bold daylight robbery which occurred at the office of the McConnell Asbestos Covering Company, Etna, Saturday afternoon. An unknown man entered the office and tore an iron deposit box from the safe. The box contained $7 in cash and important papers, and insurance policies. In the next drawer was $200 in currency, which was not disturbed. Clerk Smith was absent only a few minutes, but on his return could find no trace of the robber except that neighbors had seen a man in a slouch hat board a passing train.

Avalon School Board Elects Principal.

The Avalon school board last night after casting 26 ballots succeeded in electing C. G. Canon of South Sharon, Pa., as principal at a salary of $1,100 a year. The school board reorganized by electing the following officers: President, Alexander M. Hamilton; secretary, C. M. Johnson; depository, Avalon bank; treasurer, William Jenkins. The salaries of all teachers were raised $5 a year. Prof. C. E. Dickey, last year's principal, tendered his resignation.

Chief Hunter Is Reinstated.

John K. Hunter, superintendant of the Allegheny bureau of fire, who was suspended from duty about two weeks ago by Thomas E. Scandrett, director of the department of public safety, on orders from Mayor Wyman, was yesterday reinstated. Chief Hunter will resume the duties of his office this morning.

School Principals Resign.

At the meeting of the board of school controllers of McKeesport last evening resignations were received from C. E. Foster and J. D. Goyason as principals and Miss Amanda French as teacher. Mr. Foster will go to Allegheny and Mr. Goydson to Donora.

JAPANESE ADVANCE IN FORCE ON RUSSIANS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 19.—Gen. Linevitch, under date of June 17, telegraphed to the emperor as follows:

"From 2 a. m. until 8 a. m., June 16, our force engaged in the neighborhood of Liao-Yang-Wo-Peng a Japanese force consisting of infantry and two batteries of artillery, which approached from the south to about five miles of Liao-Yang-Wo-Pens. Our detachment southward checked the offensive movement and the Japanese retired.

"At about 5 a. m., a turning movement on the left flank, executed by a battalion of Japanese infantry and three squadrons of cavalry, was also reported. Our right flank was turned by a regiment of infantry, several squadrons of cavalry and some artillery. The commander of our attachment consequently was forced to evacuate Liao-Yang-Wo-Peng and a Japanese force entered Liao-Yang-Wo-Peng with a division of infantry, 30 squadrons of cavalry and four batteries of artillery. Three Japanese squadrons occupied Sinlaochen, but our detachment forced them to evacuate the place.

"At dawn today a company of Japanese infantry resumed the offensive eastward of the railway, but were dislodged by a detachment of volunteer sharpshooters. According to reports from Korea the enemy is advancing in the direction of Koegchen, and Mukden."

Telegraphing June 18, Linevitch said there had been no change in the situation.

FLYER AHEAD OF TIME.

N. Y. Central Train Rivals Pennsylvania Special Record Between Chicago and New York.

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Special.)—With no more fuss than if an ordinary feat had been accomplished, the New York Central's new Twentieth Century Limited train pulled into the Grand Central station at 9:27 a. m. today, three minutes ahead of schedule time, having made the run of 980 miles from Chicago in 17 hours and 57 minutes.

George H. Daniels, general passenger agent of the New York Central, went up to Albany to meet the new flyer and came down on board it. Mr. Daniels said it was not improbable the Central would further reduce the time between here and Chicago to 16 hours.

"We have accomplished what we set out to do," said he. "A man can now attend to business in New York and leaving here at 3:30 get to Chicago in time to do a day's work and return to New York the same afternoon, reaching here in the morning."

EXCLUDE LIQUOR DEALERS.

They Are Barred from Membership in the Pittsburgh Board of Trade at Lively Meeting.

The Pittsburgh board of trade, at its regular meeting last night, placed itself on record as being opposed to the election of any person connected with the liquor traffic to membership in the organization. A well-known downtown wholesale liquor dealer was proposed for membership and he was rejected by a vote of 30 to 29.

Attorney W. A. Griffith made a spirited address in behalf of the candidate and criticised the members for what he termed their "fanaticism" and their "holier than thou" attitude. The candidate's name was finally withdrawn.

A proposition to have the board of trade become affiliated with kindred organizations was voted down. Col. Frank I. Rutledge, John Galloway and J. H. Moore were elected life members.

OFFICER IS VIGILANT.

Helps Foil Second Attempt to Rob Shadyside Residence.

The second attempt within a month to gain an entrance into the residence of C. A. Spaulding of 862 Rebecca street, was foiled yesterday morning by the vigilance of the policeman on the beat, and the fact that Mr. Spaulding is a light sleeper.

About 1 o'clock Mr. Spaulding heard footsteps on the cement walk at the side of the house, and looking out saw a man moving toward the rear of the house. Mr. Spaulding went to get his revolver and in the interval the policeman on the beat saw the man and gave chase.

The man escaped through the vacant lots at the rear of the house. As this route is the one taken by the persons making the other attempt, it is thought that both attempts were made by the same parties.

Pastor Gets Vacation.

The congregation of the Bellefield Presbyterian church has granted its pastor, the Rev. Daniel Russell, 30 weeks' leave of absence. The Rev. Mr. Russell will sail for Europe next week and during his absence the pulpit will be continued under the direction of supplies. Next Sunday the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat, moderator of the general assembly, will occupy the pulpit.

Finds Many Pawn Tickets.

Police Capt. Lawrence Bartley found a dozen pawntickets at 578 Second Avenue yesterday, where on Sunday he arrested George King, alias Dunhill, and Jerome Morello, two New York men; Ruth Meredith, also of New York, and Ada Morrello of Pompton, N. J. The pawn tickets show that rings, watches, pins and other jewelry had been pledged, as well as other goods, all in New York city during the time the women had lived in this city.

FORM AN ORGANIZATION.

Pittsburghers With Canadian Homes Combine for Mutual Welfare.

Pittsburghers who have summer homes in the Muskoka lake region, Canada, or who are regular summer visitors in that region, formed an association in room 499, Bessemer building, yesterday afternoon, by electing the following officers: President, Dr. John A. Brasheer; secretary, the Rev. S. Edward Young of "Savage Den," Lake of the Byss; treasurer, John Walker, and vice presidents, Reuben Miller, Albert McKay, Thomas Standish, Dr. Riggs and R. A. Kennedy.

Th objects of the organization are to promote the common interests of its members in securing through sleeping cars, securing information regarding game and fishing laws, data concerning depths of lakes, and other information and comforts.

PUDDLERS ARE ON A STRIKE AT SPANG-CHALFANT MILLS

Puddlers employed at the Spang-Chalfant mills, Etna, yesterday went out on strike after demanding an increase in wages. Last night only eight of the 37 puddling furnaces at the mill were in operation and these had closed down by 9 o'clock. One hundred and eight puddlers are employed at the mills and the strike will affect 200 men. The men have been receiving $4.50 a ton and want the scale price of $5.37. On July 1 the scale price will go to $5.75, owing to the hot weather, but it is said that the company has refused any increase.

Will Look into Negley Charges.

Mayor Hays has notified Evan A. Jones, who brought charges of conduct unbecoming a public officer against Police Magistrate E. C. Negley, that he would investigate the charges. Jones still insists that Negley accused him of being drunk and as he never tasted liquor in his life he wants Negley's alleged conduct looked into.

J. W. LEE FAVORS CLARION SYSTEM

Under This Plan of Nominating Candidates There Is Little Chance for Fraud.

MAGEE RULES GAIN FRIENDS

Another advocate of abolishing the delegate system in making nominations in Republican primaries was found yesterday in former Senator J. W. Lee. He favors the adoption of the Clarion county plan, which is the method The Gazette has suggested. Under this system the candidate carrying a district is credited with the vote cast for president or governor.

Senator Lee has had much experience in politics and is familiar with the workings of the various systems of nominating candidates. He says the delegate system is the worst in the world and gives his reasons. He has been living in Pittsburgh for about 11 years, but has not been taking an active interest in local politics because of the delegate system.

Senator Lee was asked yesterday for his views on the question of changing the rules in Allegheny county from the delegate system to some other plan of making nominations. He expressed himself as follows:

Worst System in World.

"I am very strongly of the opinion that the delegate system is the worst system in the world, because the great mass of the Republican voters believe that they have no voice in the selection of candidates under this plan. Especially is this true in a busy city like Pittsburgh, where the people cannot be acquainted with the delegates who are put up to represent the different candidates. The people may know very well men who are prominent enough to become candidates for the principal offices and yet have no knowledge of the delegates who represent them and are voted for at the primaries. They also have a lurking suspicion that the wishes of the voters are not always carried out by delegates when they come into the convention.

"I have resided in this county for 11 years and have desired to express my opinion as to the candidates, but have always felt that I had no chance to do so under the system in vogue. Prior to coming here I had a number of years' experience in the country as to the rules governing the selection of candidates, under what is known as the Crawford county system, which is a direct vote for the candidate, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes in the county being declared the nominee.

Favors Clarion System.

"I am also familiar with what is known as the Clarion county system, where the candidate receiving the highest number of votes in a given precinct is entitled to the official vote of that precinct at the last governor's election, or presidential election, if the presidential election is the last before the primary. I regard this as the very best system that can be adopted, because it eliminates the possibility of large frauds being committed and gives the country districts a better chance for expression of opinion, and candidates more cheerfully submit to results when they know that they have had a fair opportunity to succeed in the primary vote. We had this system for 15 years in Venango county and it gave almost universal satisfaction.

"If those who deem themselves party leaders are wise I believe they will make this change. The elections that have taken place in the last two years should convince them the people are not satisfied unless they have a fair chance for an expression of opinion. Should such a change be made I believe they will discover that they are very greatly lessening the chance for defeat at the polls."

Henderson an Opponent.

John Henderson of Allegheny is the only man who has publicly expressed himself against the adoption of the Crawford county system. He does not say that he would oppose such a plan in a modified form, as is found in the Clarion county system. Mr. Henderson is afraid of frauds in the lower wards of Allegheny under the Crawford county plan. By crediting the winning candidate in a district with the vote cast for president, there would be slight danger from fraud.

Senator Magee, who is leading the fight for a change of party rules, says he is receiving a great deal of support. With the exception of Mr. Henderson no one has publicly opposed his rules and then he objects to the Crawford county system only. Former Senator William Flinn, City Chairman Leslie and County Chairman Ford are reported to be against the Magee rules, but they have given no evidence that the report is correct. If there is much objection to the adoption of the proposed changes in party laws the majority of the objectors will probably be found in the cities. There was some intimation yesterday that even the opponents of the direct vote system would be willing to give it a trial for a year.

CHECKS ARE WORTHLESS.

Walter E. Nelson Is Said to Have Passed Some That Were Forged.

Detectives William Riley and Homer Crooks yesterday arrested Walter E. Nelson, alias Boys, as a suspicious person. It is alleged Nelson uttered forged checks. His scheme, it is said, was to order goods at various stores, to be sent to a fictitious address, and to present in payment a check made to his order. When the checks got into the bank upon which they were drawn, they were pronounced forgeries. In every case, it is charged, Nelson received from the storekeepers in cash the difference between the face of the check and the cost of the goods.

Nelson was arrested when he called at the postoffice yesterday for mail. In his room in a lodging house in New Grant street, several checks were found with the name E. H. Squire, a Pittsburgh business man, on them. Similar checks, when presented at Mr. Squire's bank, were said to be forgeries.

Decent Burial for Friendless Boy.

Deputy Coroner George Mercer will pay especial attention to the burial of little "Andy" Karcak, which will be at the expense of the county. The boy's mother, with a two-year-old babe in her arms, was wandering about the Baltimore & Ohio tracks near Willock station last Friday when a train came along. The woman was able to get out of the way, but the boy, who had been running behind her, was struck. The woman's husband has deserted her. She and the baby were turned over to the police, while the body of the boy was taken to the morgue. Mercer says no one will claim the body and he is going to see that it is decently interred.

Teachers for Wilkins Township.

The meeting for the election of Wilkins township teachers resulted as follows: Miss Johnston, Miss Cunningham, Miss Doby, Miss Curry, Miss Mason, Miss Shaub, Miss Gill, Miss Higby, Miss Pollock, two vacancies remaining undecided. By the further decision of the board active measures will be taken to complete the contemplated erection of a modern school building for Millerstown, to cost in the neighborhood of $8,000. Miss Johnston was appointed principal of the new school.

Memorial Hall Is Approved.

The grand jury approved the petition for the erection of the Memorial hall to the soldiers and sailors who served during the civil war. This action places the question up to the judges of quarter sessions court for approval, after which the county commissioners will submit to popular vote the plan of issuing the $1,250,000 bonds required. A committee of Grand Army men were before the grand jury with its attorneys, Andrew S. Miller and William A. Stone.

Marron Not Ready for Wallace.

John Marron has not yet brought suit against Superintendent of Police Alexander Wallace in connection with the charges brought against Wallace by Amos Dacuroth, of which charges Wallace was exonerated by Mayor Hays and Director Harry Moore. Mr. Marron said yesterday that he and Attorney John G. Hawker were too busy to bother with Wallace just now, but they would take action when the time was ripe.

MORTON ORDERS MORE PROBING

Directs Expert Accountants to Make Another Investigation of the Equitable Society.

IT WILL COVER EVERYTHING

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 19.—A new and independent investigation of the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society is to be begun at once. Paul Morton, the newly-elected chairman of the board of directors, wants to know exactly how things are with the society, and has commissioned Price, Waterhouse & Co., and Haskins & Sells, chartered accountants, working together, to examine every detail of the work, investments and relations of the society.

The letter sent by Mr. Morton to the firms employed is as follows:

"Dear Sirs:—As chairman of the board of the Equitable Life Assurance society, I want to know the exact condition of the society as of June 10, 1905, the date of my election as chairman. With that end in view, you will please make jointly an examination of the accounts of the society. You will have access to all books, papers and records. I desire your report should be as complete and exhaustive as possible. Particular attention should be paid to ascertaining the facts upon the following subjects:

"1. The society's annual expenses, including legal expenses, advertising expenses, agency expenses and cost of securing business.

"2. The real estate investments of the company, including in the case of each particular parcel the value of which it is carried upon the books of the society; the income which it yields; and the fair valuation of the property, whether above or below the value at which it is carried upon the books of the society, if necessary, real estate experts may be employed in ascertaining the value and income of the real estate, subject, of course, to my approval as to men and terms.

"3. The other investments of the society; their character and the circumstances under which they have been made.

"4. The society's surplus and the manner in which it is carried upon the books of the society.

"5. The methods of keeping the society's accounts, and the respects in which its accounting may be improved.

"6. The relations between the society and the trust companies, banks, safe deposit companies and other institutions with which the society is affiliated by ownership of considerable amounts of stock or otherwise. In the case of every corporation in which the society has a dominant or important interest, or with which the society has special relations, the ownership of stock other than that owned by the society should be ascertained so far as practicable.

"7. The subjects covered by the report of the investigating committee, of which Mr. Frick was chairman, should be fully investigated.

"8. When the report of the New York superintendent of insurance has been made that report should be carefully studied, and every matter covered by it, or by the recommendations of the commissioner should be carefully examined.

"The foregoing suggestions are not intended to limit the scope of your inquiries, which should be as broad as may be necessary in order to ascertain the precise condition of the affairs of the society. I shall from time to time designate other subjects which seem to call for special investigation.

"It is important for all concerned that your investigation should be completed as promptly as possible and you will accordingly inaugurate it at once and carry it forward with all possible vigor. I suggest that each one of your firms place in general charge of this work one particular man with whom I may confer from time to time. It is very essential that the entire matter should be treated confidentially and I wish to confer with you as to when you shall begin this work and how you shall proceed.

"Very truly yours,
"PAUL MORTON."

President James W. Alexander, of the Equitable society, was not at his office today. Mr. Alexander has not been in good health for several days.

Private advices from Albany today indicate that Supt. Hendricks' report of his investigation of the Equitable society will not be completed for several days.

WOULD KEEP EQUITABLE FROM THE LEGISLATURE

Gov. Higgins Does Not Want the Society's Tangled Affairs to Go Before His Special Session.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ALBANY, N. Y., June 19.—There is little likelihood of any consideration of the Equitable Life affairs by the special session of the legislature which convenes Wednesday, for two very good reasons. Gov. Higgins is decidedly opposed to having the Equitable matter placed before the extra session, and will do all he can to confine the legislature's action to the case of Judge Hooker. The second reason is that in this determination the governor is supported by those who are his closest friends, and on whose advice he strongly relies to avoid pitfalls.

It remains to be seen, however, whether pressure from other sources can overcome the present frame of mind of the governor, and whether an important conference tomorrow between the governor and the party leaders will bring about a change of program. There are many members of the lower house who would, if possible, introduce resolutions as voicing the feelings of their constituents and public clamor demanding an investigation of the Equitable squabble, but Gov. Higgins will thwart any such efforts by neglecting to mention the Equitable in his message, stating the reasons for the extra session.

Gov. Higgins looks upon the forthcoming report on the Equitable affair as being prepared for him and not intended for the legislature's consideration. At the same time, when the report is complete, the governor will make it public.

AFTER THE WIFE-BEATERS.

Burgess Ross, of Homestead, May Offer Prize for an Effective and Painful Punishment.

"I am tempted to offer a cash prize for the best suggestion as to the severest means of punishing a wife beater. The more torturing the punishment suggested the higher the prize I will pay," said W. Shaler Ross, burgess of Homestead, yesterday, in speaking of the many cases of wife beating that have been before him during the past week.

"There is an epidemic of wife beating in Homestead," says Burgess Ross, "and the usual fine and costs does not seem to stop it."

Burgess Ross has been a terror to wife beaters during his term of office and usually gives the extreme fine allowed by law. The number of cases of wife beating during the past few weeks has alarmed the burgess, and he is in a quandary how to stop the practice.

SAYS LIQUOR MEN HID DETECTIVES

Secretary Page of Anti-Saloon League Makes Interesting Report and Lauds Weaver.

LEAGUE TO ENTER POLITICS

In making his annual report before the united annual meetings of the Allegheny County and Pittsburgh District Anti-Saloon leagues, held in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, Secretary C. E. Page, D. D., announced that during the recent session of license court the league was handicapped for a time because of the non-appearance of its detectives, and made the declaration that the detectives were in hiding in the house of the secretary of the liquor league and had demanded $1,000 before they would testify. The demand, he said, was refused because it was too much of an advance in the detectives' salaries. The matter was finally adjusted and the detectives brought into court.

Politics formed the general theme for discussion at the meeting, and every speaker urged the league to throw its weight, politically, on the side that favored local option. Various speakers praised the recent attitude of Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia, and resolutions were passed instructing the secretary to send him a message of appreciation to him for his stand.

John M. Berry, state legislator from Washington county and father of the Berry local option law which died in committee at the last session of the legislature, made the principal address, and among other things declared that United States Senator Penrose and Israel Durham of Philadelphia were responsible for the bill being kept from before the house.

Implored Help for Weaver.

The Rev. S. E. Nicholson, superintendent of the state league, prayed that "God may give Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia increased power in ridding that city of corruption and corrupt politicians, and that the work be carried throughout the state." He said the league should take advantage of dissensions in politics and this fall elect officers who are advocates of temperance. "We hope to elect legislators this year," he said, "who will not take orders against passing a local option bill, as the present legislators have done."

Representative Berry followed and stated that the chairman of the committee holding the local option bill presented by him had told him that if he secured orders from Senator Penrose and Mr. Durham to have the bill reported to the house that the orders would be carried out. "But I could not get those orders," continued the speaker, "because the liquor men had the ears of Penrose and Durham. We had the votes to pass the bill. While some of the legislators like the liquor themselves, they would vote for the bill because of fear of the effect upon their constituents. I had more than enough votes pledged to support the bill, but everybody was tumbling over themselves to get in with the Philadelphia delegation, which held the power in both houses."

"And then," continued Mr. Berry, "you don't know how near your Sabbath laws came to being repealed. The bill was slated for third reading, but a slight hitch at the last moment prevented its passage." He urged the league to enter the political field and secure legislators favorable to the work of the organization.

Work of an United Presbyterian Judge.

The Rev. R. E. McClure of Blairsville told of the political victory of the anti-saloon league in Indiana county by electing a "United Presbyterian judge," who allowed but 12 licenses to 46 applicants. He also told of its successful fight against a movement to have the Blairsville local option bill repealed.

The Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton of Allegheny, who presided, then spoke on the history of the temperance movement dating its origin to Baltimore in 1840. He said that just previous to the civil war all the northern states excepting New Jersey and California, had local option laws, but that after the war the liquor interests organized and have ruled politics ever since by centering their forces and throwing their weight on the center of the teeter board of politics. He urged temperance people to unite and follow the same practice and contended that they would out-vote the liquor men two to one. "The trouble with our citizens, and some of the best of them," he said, "is that they place politics before religious ties. I verily believe that if some of our church-goers knew that God would preside at the next prayer meeting and a political meeting or caucus was taking place, the same night, that they would cut the prayer meeting for the political meeting." He then made a strong plea for the league to enter the political field in securing favorable legislation.

The following motion was presented and carried: "That we instruct our secretary to convey to Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia our hearty congratulations over his courageous fight for good government, and express the earnest hope that it may result in the overthrow of the vicious, boss-ridden system of politics in his city and in the state.

Receipts and Expenditures.

The report of Secretary Page announced that the receipts of the Pittsburgh district since its organization, 18 months ago, had been $11,467 08, of which a balance of $490 11 remained. The Allegheny county league receipts during the year were $3,831 88 and the expenses $3,756 98. The report recommended that the leagues use their efforts in securing better officials in the nation, state, county and municipality, and declared that the bad element held the reins while the good citizens had cowardly and timidly retired.

Secretaary Page reported that the county league had succeeded in having the license of Fred Tschume, the Allegheny bottler, revoked, which he said had been instrumental towards the prosecution and conviction of alleged political grafters in Allegheny. The report highly praised the new set of rules as laid down by the recent license court, especially one providing that office holders be excluded from holding liquor license, declaring that previous to the organization of the league, 60 political officers held licenses in this county.

SPECTATORS INTERFERE AND SAVE WHISKERS FOR DORAN

John Doran, superintendent of the public safety building, and Charles Jennings, who has a bootblack stand in the building, yesterday got into a fight. Jennings has been assisting a porter to carry ice into the building and Doran yesterday rebuked him for "nebbin'." Jennings seized Doran's whiskers and threatened to pull the adornment out, but spectators intervened before any part of Doran's face was denuded. No arrests were made, but Director Harry Moore will investigate the fracas.

Slender Rail Saves Many Lives.

A five-inch pipe which serves as a railing along the McKeesport and Duquesne bridge was all that prevented a frightful accident yesterday morning. A car filled with passengers was crossing the bridge and when about to start down a steep grade on the McKeesport side a flange broke on one of the wheels. The car left the track and bumped along over the bridge until it collided with the slender pipe, which fortunately held it firm. Had it not been for the railing, the car would have plunged to the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, 50 feet below. Several men jumped from the car and three women fainted.

KELLY NOT TALKING.

The Promoter of Independent Sheet Combine Has Nothing to Say About Failure.

M. B. Kelly, one of the promoters of the proposed consolidation of independent sheet steel manufacturers, refused to discuss yesterday the rumors that the project will not be a success.

It was stated that a number of the options secured were at prices so exorbitant that they could not be accepted as a working arrangement.

The Dynamics of Underprices--Especially on Furniture.

We have always held that anything of worth can be sold at any season of the year, provided a striking underprice is quoted. Thus, along lines of underprices, we sell furs in August, and now a parallel is had in the selling of high grade furniture in the hot part of June, usually considered a very dull time.

The advance quotations on furniture in Saturday's papers brought to this fifth floor department yesterday many seekers after single pieces of furniture and they found what they wanted—and they were satisfied—more than that, they were amazed to find such high grade furniture offered for such prices. Prices do not look nearly so well in print as they do when attached to the article they stand for.

This sale is not for one or two days, but will continue for ten days or two weeks. We are enlarging our fifth floor Furniture Department, and it is desirable to get rid of the sample pieces now on exhibition. The best way to get rid of anything is to name get-rid prices.

By the way, the telephone is a right good salesman—if you don't want to come to the store in person.

Arnold Knit Infants' Outfits.

Even in the warmest weather do not cramp or irritate the baby. They're the most healthful you will admit the moment you see them—so soft, light and fluffy, like cobwebs, that even a cross baby grows sunshiny and happy when wearing them.

Baby's skin is never chafed by an Arnold garment, the fabric is so absorbent that every bit of perspiration is immediately taken up, leaving baby's skin soft and sweet, cool and dry.

Could we but place every garment in a mother's hands it would be unnecessary for us to tell you all this—she could see in a moment how fine and dainty they are. Every seam is covered and every harsh edge eliminated.

The complete line covers over fourteen separate and essential articles.

We are sure every mother will feel amply repaid by inspecting them. In our Infants' Department, second floor, East.

Tuesday, June 20, 1905.

While the negotiations for a peace conference at Washington are proceeding smoothly, there is evident a desire on the part of the forces in Manchuria to try conclusions once again. It need surprise no one if another great battle occurs before an armistice is agreed to.

President Roosevelt will investigate the entire subject of the relations between federal and state authorities as a result of the complaint of Food Commissioner Warren and the reply of Collector Heiner. It apparently occurs to him the interests of justice may suffer through lack of co-operation. It is a legitimate matter for inquiry and development.

Hon. E. F. Acheson has met his enemies in Washington county by accepting the chairmanship of the Republican committee. In his speech he said the movement to disrupt the party was started by a few "baffled grafters." This is strong language, but in any event the fusion campaign if successful would simply benefit the Democratic party.

While the weather station reports the warmest June night on record, it is not by odds the warmest night this city has experienced. The genuine high temperatures are reached in July and August. The high record for June does not mean, however, that the midsummer months will also break records. There is no use worrying, particularly in torrid weather.

Former Senator J. W. Lee speaks to the point concerning the proposed new county rules, in an interview printed in another column. He favors the popular vote plan with the Clarion county modification of giving each district the full vote at the preceding gubernatorial or presidential election. That is a just method and entirely representative. The time is ripe for enlarging the influence of the common people in primary elections.

Yesterday's Leader announced the selection of Herman P. Miller for secretary of the Republican state committee with the comment: "This is an exclusive announcement," etc. A bit of Leader exclusiveness. The fact was announced in large headlines on the first page of The Gazette last Wednesday and becomes exclusive in the Leader the following Monday. Whosoever wants to read the news while it is news should read The Gazette.

This week is the time of meeting of the American Association of Civil Engineers at Cleveland. This body of men is one of the most important in the country, for the engineer is the man behind the plan. He is the man who does things, and will have many interesting things to talk about. Pittsburgh would make a good meeting place for the next annual convention of the engineers, or the one after that, for Pittsburgh has numerous engineering achievements to be proud of.

The lady managers of the St. Louis fair spent less than three-fourths of the $100,000 alloted them by congress and are ready to return the balance to the government. This is certainly creditable. A committee of men with the same amount to spend could probably have bought liquor and cigars enough to use it all. Tea is not as costly as liquor, and ice cream is cheaper than cigars. It would no doubt be economy if all the entertaining committees were composed of women.

The decision of the navy department rechristen the training ship Chesapeake and call it Severn, because the insult by the former name suffered such humiliation early in the century, raises the question why the name was chosen in the first place. When the names of vessels that won renown have not generally been perpetuated it is rather singular that the schoolship where the Annapolis cadets, who are supposed to be learning lessons of patriotism, should be given the name of a vessel whose surrender in the days of the British press gang resulted in a scandal and a fatal duel.

Change in Hump Plans.

A new aspect is given the hump removal by the letter of Henry C. Frick to Director Edward M. Bigelow. That this is fully appreciated is shown by the abandonment of the meeting of common council last evening, at which it had been expected the ordinance authorizing an issue of $2,000,000 bonds would be passed. In brief Mr. Frick has withdrawn his waivers of damages for the 18-foot cut proposed, suggests a maximum reduction of 6 feet and offers to pay his pro rata share of cost of the improvement, not to exceed $100,000. Mr. Frick is the largest owner of property in the affected district.

The original plan for reducing the street grades on Grant hill provided for a cut of 13 feet at Fifth and Wylie avenues. The court house was built conformable to that plan. Director Bigelow subsequently decided the cut should be 18 feet at that point. The county commissioners made objection to that feature last year. Mr. Frick's proposition goes to the other extreme, but is accompanied by an earnest of his good faith. The cost on this scale would be vastly less than on the 18-foot basis. Mr. Frick also proposes to put the improvement on the same footing as other street work, widening, regrading and paving, namely, the payment of damages and assessment of benefits. We print in another column a communication from an attorney, written without knowledge of Mr. Frick's action, taking the view that the hump should be treated the same as other street impovements.

Director Bigelow declares the new plan impractical, but says he will take no further steps until he has a personal conference with Mr. Frick. In the meantime the public will think the whole matter over from various points of view, as it should. If the project is shifted to an ordinary street improvement basis it will be for the property owners to decide; if a bond issue is asked for the people must act.

Collapse of the Strike.

It matters nothing when the Chicago teamsters' strike is officially declared off. It is lost now. The men are applying individually for work, at the best terms they can make. This outcome was indicated from the first. When the rioting and disorder began there was practically no hope. When the disclosures of blackmail began to be made the certainty of defeat stared the strikers in the face. The strike is now over except for a formal admission of the fact.

It is a good time for the teamsters who have been engaged in this struggle to review it mentally and ask themselves if anything has been gained by it. The time is opportune to consider the subject of strikes in general. This one has ended as nine out of every ten have ended in this country during the past twenty years, to go no farther. The losses to labor through them have been enormous.

A strike can be justified, if ever, only by conditions that are absolutely intolerable. Better then for each man to leave his employment as an individual and seek work somewhere else. No such conditions present themselves in this Chicago case. The teamsters had no grievance. They undertook to compel an employing firm to reinstate 19 discharged garment workers. It would have been cheaper for them to have paid those garment workers while they were idle. The worst phase of the whole matter, however, is being brought out in the investigation now under way—the story of strikes called by conscienceless leaders to enforce their demands for blackmail. Workmen cannot afford to play that sort of game at the behest of brigands cloaked as labor leaders.

The Greater Danger.

For two days past the public has been horrified by the details of a railroad wreck that cost 25 lives. This is bad enough, and justifies the demand for better safeguards. Yet collisions and derailments furnish but a small portion of the total of railroad fatalities every year. They attract more attention than other accidents because more persons are killed at one time. In the course of a year, however, the total of persons killed while walking on or across railroad tracks is larger than the total killed in wrecks of all sorts.

It is an almost daily incident in the office of the coroner of Allegheny county to receive notice that some one has been killed by a train. No surprise is excited if two or three such notifications come in a single day. In other counties of the state the same slaughter goes on, and in other states of the union. The grand totals compiled by the interstate commerce commission are appalling. They are expressed in thousands, while the totals of killed in wrecks are numbered in hundreds.

Wrecks will occur occasionally on the best managed roads in this country and abroad. They are unavoidable. These other deaths are preventable. That portion of them in which the victims are railroad employes cannot be avoided, probably, but the vastly greater portion could be prevented if the public could be kept off the tracks. There should be laws against trespass on railroad property with severe penalties attached. No person should be permitted to walk upon a railroad track who has no business there, and the law makers of the several states must soon realize this. They should long ago have penalized the suicidal practice.

Darwin in the Parks.

It is evident the rules and regulations of our city parks need bringing up to date. There was a time when the simple admonition "Keep off the grass" covered every possible infraction of decorum. A little later the prohibition "No dogs allowed" sufficed to keep the peace and prevent damage. Since then the park code has been amplified considerably in its details, but an incident occurring the other day shows it needs to be modernized and revised to meet the exigencies brought about by the proximity of the zoo. Two brothers, watching the monkeys in their cages, got into a fight over the Darwinian theory, and had to be locked up before they had settled the question. Quarrels of this sort are likely to occur at any time, and it is meet to forestall them by a judicious extension of the park rules.

It would be well to place a large sign above the monkey cages—"Discussion of the theory of evolution is positively prohibited." One of the present articles of the code could be amended to read: "It is absolutely forbidden to bring into the park any intoxicating liquors, the 'Origin of Species' or the 'Descent of Man.'". Another rule could be expanded thus: "All profane language, or mentioning the names of Darwin, Spencer, Huxley and Haeckel is interdicted under penalty of the law." Perhaps it would also be well to taboo the words "anthropoid," "simian," "atavism," "protoplasm" and "ontogeny," as well as the phrases "natural selection," "struggle for existence" and "survival of the fittest."

Even with these precautions, the danger will not be averted altogether. The park policemen should be instructed not to admit any persons with vestigial gill-slits, nictitating membranes, furry ears or the power of moving them, or any other rudimenta which might provoke discussion. These rules and measures, we believe, will suffice for the present, and they can be modified and extended at any time if necessary to include Weismannism and the amphimixis theory. Let us have peace in the parks at any price.

France Is Conciliatory.

Possibilities of war between France and Germany over the Morocco situation are diminishing. France has yielded the vital point and consented to join with Germany in a general conference of the powers to consider reforms for Morocco. This decision is, apparently, welcomed in Paris as well as in Berlin, though the military establishments of both nations continue active in preparing for eventualities.

France has acted wisely. Whatever of humiliation may be involved is to be much preferred to another war with Germany, even with the probable support of Great Britain. The unfortunate phase of the matter is the confirmation of the German emperor's assumption that Russia's entanglement gives him a free hand with his near neighbors. It is to be feared William has a domineering disposition, coupled with his belief in divine rights, and he may become disagreeably meddlesome. There is a saving factor in his keen perception of commercial advantages which may move him to keep the peace as strenuously as he endeavors to incite others to the extravagances of war and militarism.

This seems to be a great time for the pirates generally. Our own bunch managed to jump into second place last week, and now another crowd over on the Siberian coast destroyed an entire settlement and got away with the plunder.

Three men were shot to death in a battle over a widow out in Missouri the other day. The single woman will doubtless regard this as another warning against the habit of the widow to overstock herself with admirers.

Lightning struck an ice house out in Wisconsin the other day and melted 300,000 tons of ice. In Pittsburgh during several days past the ordinary weather conditions turned the same trick without the aid of electricity.

Middelschulte is the name of the gentleman who has been picked as city organist for Pittsburgh by Chicago authorities. It may be all right, but that name has a summer park amusement sound about it.

When one considers the political experience through which Philadelphia has just passed it can be readily seen that a little thing like 100 degrees in the shade won't make any difference in that town.

The inactivity of Santos-Dumont in the air ship promoting line may be due to the fact that the inventor finds that marriage keeps a man up in the air quite enough for all practical purposes.

If this high speed train service between Chicago and New York continues it will destroy the advantage that Harlem possesses as a suburban residence section for New Yorkers.

From the various news accounts we gather that the peace-maker in most of the fights and shooting scrapes continues to get considerably the worst of it.

"Cuba is leaning on Uncle Sam," says a news headline. To a great many people it looks more like she was sitting on his lap.

We observe with sorrow that the weather man is beginning to contract that "Oh, it-isn't-such-a-hot-day" habit.

Lowell was slightly mistaken. These June days are hardly rare. On the other hand, they are slightly over-done.

Beyond the fact that Russia has no navy, no army and precious little government, she is doing very well.

The young woman who is going with Peary to the north pole is evidently not a shirt-waist girl.

If progression in weather counts for anything, we ought to have a sizzling Fourth of July.

Incidentally, the dog is perfectly welcome to the day that is coming to him.

Paul Jones' body still goes marching on.

Do you recall the days of old,
Sweet memories fondly twine,
The water pipes were frozen cold,
The snow was three feet nine?

Ma Would Like to Know.

A teacher in the North End was trying to explain the meaning of the word "recuperate" to one of her pupils.

"Now, Willie," said she, "if your father worked hard all day he would be tired and worn out, wouldn't he?"

"Yes'm."

"Then when night comes and his work is over for the day, what does he do?"

"That's what ma wants to know."—Boston Traveler.

No Joking About Money Matters.

A Minnesota man who tried to rob a train as a joke has been sent to prison for 50 years, while Banker Bigelow of Milwaukee, who robbed a bank of millions in dead earnest, has got off with a 10 years' sentence. It does not pay to joke about money matters.—Washington Post.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

What stops my despair?
This: 'Tis not what man does which exalts him, but what man would do.
—Browning.

Quite Browningesque, don't you say? Well, the philosophy is good, but hardly mild enough for this weather.

And yet our correspondents persist in writing about courtship, love and matrimony, so it would seem that the temperature does not affect discussion to any great extent.

You may have thought of this same thing that Browning had in mind, but you couldn't express it in words.

Poets seem to have been designed and made to say the things we feel, but can't tell. It was Emerson who defined the poet as one who sees and can tell.

Your favorite poet is the one who tells the things you know and feel, but can't express. He doesn't tell you anything new or startling, but goes right on saying things that you have always known but had never been able to tell them to others.

Therein lies the secret of the great popularity of James Whitcomb Riley. He is one of the people—one who feels perfectly at home with you and me, sees as we see, and feels as we feel, but he has the gift of expressing these feelings in simple words. That is why he is our poet—the people's poet.

* * *

And so Browning wrote the lines just quoted. At first they seem a bit lofty, if not stilted, but when you come to think them over a bit you are ready to agree that he said it about as cleverly as can be said.

Who among us who has not felt ashamed that he has done so little in a world in which there is so much to do?

And who does not tremble at the thought of being judged solely by what he has actually accomplished in this life?

If we are credited with the good we do, and charged with the evil we do, how think you your account stands? Even if you were allowed to make out a statement for yourself do you imagine that you could make it balance in your favor?

There would hardly be a stop to your despair if you thought there would be nothing to your credit but the good you have actually accomplished.

It is that which you actually aim to do that makes you a good and useful man. The desire and ambition to do that which the times and seasons demand exalts you in the estimation of the people, and lifts you higher, because your soul follows your aspirations.

Ambition and noble aspirations do not indicate a selfish or sordid disposition, but rather a wholesome, helpful disposition—the kind of disposition we expect and hope to find in heaven.

Who among us that has not hoped and even expected to accomplish a great deal more than we have? But are we not all the better for these hopes and expectations?

* * *

Mr. Quiet Observer:—I have often thought of entering into your discussions and at last resolved to do so. Much has been and may be said about doing right. Comparatively few people do wrong because of ignorance as to which is the wrong or which the right. Many spend so much time making good resolutions that they do not have time left to fulfill them.

In this matter of right and wrong it is not necessary to plan for the future. The more a man resolves that he will quit committing certain sins the more attractively does Satan paint these sins for him to reflect upon. In the matter of necessaries for the physical life it is necessary to plan and act for the future. In the moral and spiritual life the present is sufficient. In this doing, not planning, is absolutely necessary. It may be harder to do right than to plan not to do wrong, but after all it is worth while.

The mind is never idle, and if we keep it busied with useful employments, pure thoughts and good literature, there is no need to fear evil nor to contemplate its avoidance.

Speaking of love and marriage, one of your correspondents recently paid woman a very pretty compliment when he said a widower was fit to marry at any age. To whose influence but woman's can he ascribe this particular fitness?

There is no doubt a great deal in the proper or improper mating of people, but there is more in the people themselves. In nine cases out of ten where people are improperly mated one (or perhaps both) would be an improper mate for anyone. Love is all right and no doubt very necessary, but unless it proceed from a pure and unselfish heart poverty will not need to enter the door to induce love to fly out of the window. A mere disagreement in the matter of social engagements, or a seashore trip, may lend it wings. On the other hand, if people are what they should be they are not likely to be improperly mated.

If two good people have set out on the journey of life together, however diverse their tastes may be, or however great the difference in their ages, they will adapt their habits to each other rather than cause domestic friction.

The practice of this theory is so essential to proper living that people who appreciate a happy home not only may, but do observe it.

Diversity of tastes and habits in married people need not be a hindrance to happiness, but rather an aid to right living.

Supposing that a man overfond of society marries a homeloving woman (if as we said before both are true at heart) the wife will be interested in her husband's pleasures, being perhaps all the better for it, while he, generous as she, will content himself more and more in the home she creates for him.

If a sensible woman who is frivolously inclined (no uncommon thing) be married to a homeloving man, in striving to adapt her tastes to his she will find her true sphere and far greater happiness in it than the mere pleasures of society can give.

MARJORIE.

Jamestown, O.

* * *

Excellent talk, very excellent, and no doubt it will be appreciated by many of our readers.

And were it not for that mischievous little word "if," a word that spoils more happy schemes than any other, "Marjorie" could set the world right on the matrimonial question.

If men and women were so taught that they would do the right thing at the right time and the right way, there would be no room for complaint against homes or against people.

If men and women could distinguish between fascination and love, domestic life would be ideal, and there would be no risk in entering upon it.

If men and women were capable of controlling their tempers and bridling their tongues, there would be comparatively little discomfort in the world.

If men and women who are married, and are rearing boys and girls, were to teach them to control their tempers and their tongues, there would be great reason to hope for a rapid improvement in the social, moral and physical condition of the people.

Yes, if people would even live as well as they know how, social conditions in this world would be improved several hundred per cent.

Don't you think so yourself?

IT IS TO SMILE.

Housekeeper—I regret to say, sir, that your son and the cook have eloped.

Rich Old Party—Thunderation! Then we shan't have any dinner!—Tit-Bits.

Waggs—You wouldn't think it, would you, but she's in love with a man who'd sink to any depth for money.

Edith—Gracious, a prize fighter?

Waggs—No, a diver.—Ally Sloper.

Mr. Crimsonbeak—There's another reason for calling a ship "she."

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—What is it?

Mr. Crimsonbeak—Because ships are so often spoken.—Yonkers Statesman.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Postal Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 19.—The sudden jump from damp and cloudy spring to brisk, hot summer has made the parks and seashore around New York one vast bedroom. It is estimated that 200,000 of the city's population forewore beds last night and took their rest beneath the skies. Today the parks are littered with newspapers that served as sheets and pillows for the tired dwellers of the city whose usual sleeping rooms are hot and badly ventilated. The tenement house roofs also had their share of sleepers, and even further uptown, where there is supposed to be more comfort, one might have seen many roofs dotted with sleepers if one had looked from an upper story window of a skyscraper.

The heat of the past two days has been all the more noticeable because of the fact that the season was very backward and up to Sunday there had been nothing that even approximated summer heat. The backwardness of the season was especially felt by the amusement promoters of the nearby popular resorts, but the present heat is driving people to Coney and Brighton Beach in droves. The number of bathing accidents recorded in the papers also jumped to unusual proportions yesterday and today, as hot weather always calls the youngsters into the water. A pleasant change came shortly after noon today and this evening the weather is several degrees cooler.

Need of Hero Fund Branch.

Down at Coney Island there seems to be need for a branch of the Carnegie hero fund commission to sift the real heroes from among the great majority of heroes for advertising purposes. The press agents of that famous resort for gathering in the shekels of the mercymakers are with one accord shouting the merits of various employes who have made thrilling rescues of bathers, who have been dragged back to life "just as they were going down for the last time." All sorts of notoriety are needed to keep the people informed of the merits of the various amusement enterprises, and some of them have regularly employed lifesavers whose chief aim is to get their names in print. And not all of them are deserving of Carnegie medals, either.

Heat Enough for Once.

All winter long Albert McMillan, janitor of the Cameron apartments, was annoyed by the cries of the tenants for more steam. Yesterday morning he awoke with the feeling that it was about time to get busy. In a few moments steam was rushing through the pipes and the tenants began to think the world was on fire. Calls to the basement relieved the situation not a bit, and finally some one telephoned to the police. An officer was sent around and found McMillan busy shoveling in coal. "I'll give them all the heat they want," he said, but a lift from a policeman's club caused him to change his mind and go along to the police station. There is a new janitor at the Cameron today.

Boom in the Chewing Gum Trade.

Someone has discovered that the chewing of gum while riding in the subway relieves the feeling of depression that comes from the bad air. The result is that the penny-in-the-slot machines in the entrances to the long ditch are doing a rushing trade. People who would scorn to be seen chewing gum at any other time work their masticators at full speed while in the underground. As soon as they leave the trains they throw it away. There has been no apparent effort to stick it under the seat for future service.

Those Eighteen-Hour Trains.

The success of the Pennsylvania and New York Central in driving trains between New York and Chicago in less than 18 hours is causing much discussion in Gotham. Both roads claim to be able to make much better time if necessary, even down to 15 hours, which interests those men of business who have offices in both cities. It is only another evidence of the demand for speed in America, even at the expense of safety. If this thing keeps up on the surface, the anticipated speed of the flying machine will have been discounted before the navigation of the air is made practical.

Bronx Is Growing Some.

The figures of the building department of the city show that the Bronx is growing some in the matter of new construction. Last week plans were filed for 49 new buildings to cost $749,400. This brings the total from January 1 to 1,091 buildings, 10 more than the total for Manhattan. The total estimated cost since January 1 is $17,380,815, which is also something less than the amount boasted of by Manhattan. Most of the buildings being erected in the Bronx are apartment houses with every possible modern convenience, and the result is lower rents if one is willing to travel a few miles daily to secure much comforts. The rents in the downtown section are not yet inclined to fall, however.

No Chance for a Loafer.

The decision of Magistrate Crane that a husband must support his wife, no matter if she has money of her own, will have a tendency to discourage marrying for money if it is carried to its logical conclusion. In this case, the husband pleaded that his wife had an income and did not need his support. The magistrate couldn't see it that way, and ordered him to hand her $3 of his wages each week until further orders. "You were anxious to get married," said the magistrate, "now it is up to you to perform the duties of a husband and provide for your wife." It would seem that the recalcitrant husband got off easy at that.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Why His Nose Was Red.

The late Mr. Duffy of Keene, N. H., had a red nose, despite that he was noted in his town as a total abstainer, both by profession and practice.

On one occasion, when he was on business in a liquor saloon in his neighborhood, a drummer came in to sell cigars. To gain the good graces of the bartender he invited all in the place to drink, to which invitation all readily responded, save Mr. Duffy.

The drummer went to him, and, slapping him on the shoulder, said: "I say, old man, what are you going to have?"

"I thank you, sir-r, but I never drrink," was Duffy's quiet reply.

"What! You never drink?" the drummer responded, with a sarcastic laugh. "Now, if you never drink, will you please tell us what makes that nose of your so red?"

The impertinence of the questioner at once aroused the irascibility of the old gentleman, and he replied: "Sir-r, it is glowing with pride because it is kept out uv other people's business."—Boston Herald.

How He Knew.

About a decade ago Senator Blackburn of Kentucky was one of the men who did not believe in "unconditional repeal." His friends believed that it would hurt him among his constituents, and Representative Caruth and others called at his home in Washington to try to convince him that he was standing in his own light, so to speak.

"Joe," said Caruth, "I'm afraid you are injuring your chances for re-election by taking the position you have. Every town in your state which has held a mass meeting has passed resolutions demanding the unconditional repeal of the purchase clause of the Sherman law."

"What do I care for the resolutions of the towns?" rejoined Blackburn. "They are passed by bankers, lawyers and drygoods merchants, and no countrymen were at the meetings."

"How do you know?" asked Caruth.

"How do I know? Why, Asher, I know it darned well. Every town in Kentucky is reached by a tollgate, and the poor country people haven't money enough to pass them. That's the reason I know. Here, Jim, give these fellows a drink of bourbon and let them go."—Philadelphia Ledger.

He Retaliated.

"Courtesy always pays," said Mme. Rejane, the French actress, to an interviewer. "If we are courteous to people, they like us and they try to help us. If we are discourteous to them, they hate us and oppose us.

"Two women occupied a compartment in a railway carriage with one man, a stranger. They were extremely rude to this man. In whispers that he could overhear, they criticised his costume, his figure and his manner. He, to be revenged, did a singular thing.

"The blackness of a tunnel enveloped the car, and under cover of the darkness the man kissed the back of his hand loudly and repeatedly. Then, when the train entered the light again he looked from one woman to the other with a significant smile.

"They exchanged glances of suspicion.

"'Was it you he kissed?'

"'No, of course not. Was it you?'

"And neither lady would believe the other's denial, and each, in her inmost heart, was offended to think that the man had chosen her companion instead of herself to kiss. The man looked cool and complacent. When, finally he rose to go, he said, lifting his hat with a jocular air:

"'Have no fear, ladies. I shall never tell which of you it was.'"—Exchange.

The Fickle Sailor.

Mayor Weaver of the awakened city of Philadelphia was talking to a reporter about a very astute and wily politician.

"It is difficult," said the mayor, "to get this man to do anything he doesn't want to do. Cornered, he advances argument after argument against the course you desire him to pursue. He begins with weak arguments. You think you've got him. But just as victory appears assured he puts forth a final argument that is insuperable, a final argument that floors you thoroughly.

"The fellow is like a fickle sailor of the old romance. This sailor was strong, handsome, and gay. The girls liked him, and he, I fear, like the girls. The following conversation one moonlight night in the tropics passed between him and a young woman:

"'Then, Jack, when shall we be married?'

"'But I promised my wife, sweetheart, that I would never marry a second time.'

"The young girl, beautiful in the flattering moonlight, murmured:

"'Would you cast me off for the sake of a promise to a dead woman?'

"'But she isn't dead yet,' said the fickle sailor."—Buffalo Inquirer.

THE HUMP CUT.

A Correspondent Offers Some Suggestions on the Subject.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Believing you desire that every public measure be freely and fairly discussed in your paper, I beg leave to say a few words concerning the proposed issue of bonds to pay for the work of cutting down the "hump." It may be admitted that the improvement is a desirable one; at least for the downtown district it will enlarge the territory on which to erect business houses and, by reducing the grade of streets cut, will make them more easy and convenient to travel over. The general public benefit goes this far but no farther. Every street in the city that has been graded and paved at the cost of the property abutting thereon has given to the public the same general benefit. It is proposed to issue bonds to the amount of $2,000,000 to pay for the hump improvement at the cost of the city at large, regardless of the benefits that may accrue to the properties abutting on the several streets improved. Diamond street and Oliver avenue, two downtown streets as important to the general public as the hump, were widened and the cost thereof assessed against the properties abutting thereon, because the improvement of those streets had the effect of enhancing the values of the abutting properties to an amount equal to or greater than the cost of the improvements. Would not the hump improvement have the same effect upon all of the abutting properties? If it would, should not the owners of such abutting properties be assessed in like manner to pay for the improvement? The estimate of the cost of the cut is $2,000,000. Much of the abutting property will be more than doubled in value by the improvement; the increase in values will amount to several million dollars. Is it fair or just that the city at large be taxed $2,000,000 in order to put this increase in values into the pockets of the owners of these properties? The improvement will be entirely local in its effect on the values of property; it will not increase the values of property in the East End or on the South Side. Mr. Bigelow seems to be very energetic in his efforts to obtain releases of damages from owners of property on the streets to be cut. If he would insert a clause in such releases by which such owners would also agree to an assessment against their respective properties to an amount not exceeding the benefits accruing to them from the improvements, such assessments would pay the cost of the improvement and it would not be necessary to issue $2,000,000 of bonds. If Mr. Bigelow would try to get such agreements from the owners he would probably find that Mr. Frick and other owners so fully realize the benefits that would accrue to them from the improvement that they would agree to such assessment rather than have the project fail. If this is not done the improvement of the hump and also the proposed park improvements should be postponed until some other man is placed in the position now occupied by Mr. Bigelow.

A SMALL TAXPAYER.

Pittsburgh, June 16, 1905.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES

The Schenley Branching Out.

Pittsburgh is fortunate in possessing the Hotel Schenley. Hundreds of Pittsburghers, and possibly thousands of persons about the world, would be happy to give this recommendation to the handsome and comfortable hostelry at Schenley park. The management has endeavored always to give the best of service and the patrons have been well pleased. Now the management sees another feature for making its guests and others comfortable during the summer months—the feature of a summer hotel within easy access of Pittsburgh, but giving all provisions of a summer home of cool shade and comfort. In other words as Manager James Riley modestly vouchsafes, the Schenley management has had in contemplation for some time the purchase of a suitable site for an elite summer resort, a kind of summer Tuxedo with brushrack of trees, a bit of wilderness, beautiful winding drives through the rolling woodland and certainly a body of water for rowing and bathing, in close proximity. Then the Schenley would do the rural in building a suitable structure for those of its regular patrons and others who desire to be accommodated. It was reported yesterday that the Mountain House at Cresson, Pa., for many years famous for its delightful summer climate, and well patronized by Pittsburgh families while it was conducted under the management of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was being renovated, and that the management of the Schenley had secured the place for a summer hotel. Manager Riley said that there is no truth in the report of the Schenley taking charge. The Schenley management seems desirous of securing a site nearer Pittsburgh and so situated as to give wider range of pleasure.

Hot Weather and Travelers.

"Hot as—What's that you said? Might as well take things easy and bear it? Well, yes; there's philosophy in that, but philosophy is not always a spot bitter. Go to the proprietor of this hotel and I'll warrant that he will say the hot weather is already affecting business in his line." And it was true, as the traveling man had said, not only at that hotel but at several others. At some of them the hotel men said there was not noticeable change; the registers bore witness to their word. There was one matter to be noticed, however; the hotel lobbies were almost deserted in every case for some cooler spot—either a cooling ride on the trolley line, perchance to one of the parks, or a comfortable negligee costume in the room where breezes might blow. One of the hotel clerks of long experience said that he did not remember when the slack summer season had begun so early. For the past few days it has been noticed, just as in former years, the smaller number of names was registered about the Fourth of July.

There is another side to the hot weather—that of showing an effect in the Pullman travel. Unless a patron is bound for a resort to cool his wearied body, he will defy Old Sol right to Pittsburgh rather than ride all day or night in a Pullman. Such seems to be the case at least at the Pullman office in the Union station. Reservations made a day in advance are being cancelled by the wholesale a short time before the train's departure, the explanation given in most cases being that it is too hot to travel; better to use the telegraph or telephone or Uncle Sam's postal privileges.

Allegheny Selectman on the Campus.

Happy hours of the days of long ago, the days when he was a student at the Pennsylvania Military college at Chester, Pa., will doubtless be recalled by John W. Robinson, select councilman from the Fourth ward, Allegheny, as he may happen to meet with some of his old-time chums and stroll across the campus or out to the drill ground. Mr. Robinson was graduated as a civil engineer at the college in 1876; he has not revisited Chester since that day—not that he preferred to stay away, but because it happened so. He will leave this evening on the Pennsylvania railroad to attend the dedication of the new Alumni hall tomorrow, and to be present at the annual alumni meeting.

Shriners in Pilgrimage.

Some one hundred and fifty nobles of the Mystic shrine, all members of Syria Temple, Pittsburgh, are stopping from a special Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh train near Niagara Falls this morning, cooler for their ride over the mountains. They left the Baltimore & Ohio station in the special train of five Pullman cars last evening, accompanied by Division Passenger Agent C. O'D. Pocock and Supt. A. J. Johnston of the Pittsburgh division, B., R. & P., who looked after their wants for a comfortable trip.

Among the Travelers.

Dr. R. C. Craig, former marine surgeon for this district, left over the Baltimore & Ohio last evening for Virginia and New York. He will visit his alma mater, Roanoke college, Salem, Va., for the commencement exercises.

Elliott Rodgers, counsel for the Pittsburgh Coal Company, returned home last evening from an eastern trip.

James McCrea and J. J. Turner, respectively first and third vice presidents of the Pennsylvania lines west, went to Indianapolis in a private car last evening to attend to company matters.

Carl Kaletsky, freight agent for the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway at Youngstown, accompanied by his wife and two daughters, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh.

DISCUSSION IS WAGED WARMLY

Delegates in Lutheran Synod Convention Hold Heated Arguments Until Cost is Noted.

DEFEATS PARSONAGE FUND

If there was any distinction between the temperature of the weather and that which regulated several discussions at the session of the Lutheran general synod yesterday, the latter carried off a a complete torrid victory. At one time debate became so animated and continued that the Rev. Dr. G. U. Wenner of New York arose and called the attention of the chair to the fact that every five-minute speech cost the synod $11, whereupon the session adjourned for supper.

The first heated discussion arose when the Rev. A. S. Ort of Springfield, O., offered a resolution adding five cents per capita tax to the fund for church extension work, during the morning session. He desired the additional tax to be applied in creating a parsonage fund for needy clergymen who exist on meager salaries. As the present assessment is 20 cents a member, the resolution was bitterly opposed. Delegates jostled each other in efforts to gain recognition from the chair and repeated efforts were made to continue the discussion, even after the resolution was disposed of. The resolution was voted down.

Two Year Pension for Dr. School.

Another animated and bitter discussion occurred during the afternoon session when a motion was made to allow the Rev. Dr. George School of Baltimore, formerly secretary of the board of foreign missions, an annual pension of $300 for two years, or until the next biennial convention. Dr. School was somewhat unceremoniously dismissed from the board. Since the last biennial convention Dr. School had been allowed $800 from the foreign mission fund for faithful services. For many years previous he had been secretary of the board and had stepped down during a fight between the radical and conservative elements in the church. Among some of the removals made by the radicals, Dr. School is said to have been forced to resign. The $800 was donated, it is said, as a balm. Discussion lasting one and one-half hours followed the motion made by Prof. S. F. Breckenridge, D. D., of Springfield, O., that the board give Dr. School $300 for two years.

Prof. Luther Kuhlman, D. D., of Gettysburg, president of the board, led the opposition. He said the money given for foreign missions was not intended for the support of ministers, and that such application would be a violation of confidence. John Zimmerman made a plea for reward for faithful service. Discussion then become general and at least 25 delegates thrashed out the issue. Finally the resolution was passed favorably, leaving the foreign mission board free of the $300 charge.

Substantial Increase in Receipts.

The first business before the morning session was the report of the church extension board. Receipts during the previous two years were $145,149 79, an increase of $12,820 69 over the previous two years. The Rev. Dr. H. L. Yarger of Atchison, Kan., field secretary of the board, made a bitter speech during the discussion of the report in which he denounced churches for their failure to pay back money which they had borrowed from the church extension board when they had been seriously in need. He said $275,000 was overdue and that loans which had been standing 10 and 20 years were left unpaid. He cited the First church of Kansas City and the Denver Lutheran church as examples.

During the morning session the Rev. Dr. Jacob Fry at the Mt. Airy seminary, a member of the general counsel branch of the church, entered the church and was greeted by all the delegates rising. He made a short address, after which a motion prevailed to make him a corresponding member of the synod. The incident was suggestive of the possibility of a realization of the proposed unification of these two governing bodies of the denomination.

Must Discharge Relationship.

Inter-synodical relationship was taken up during the afternoon session with special reference to the friction which has been existing between the Western Pennsylvania and the Pittsburgh synods over the ordination of a minister. A resolution was passed which will prevent any synod from accepting or ordaining an applicant until the latter has fully discharged his obligations growing out of any previous relationship with other synods.

Mrs. S. F. Breckenridge of Springfield, O., presented the report of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society, which was adopted. A general discussion then ensued on changes in the forms of making statistical reports and arguments grew so numerous and lengthy that Dr. Wehner made his effective comment on the cost of discussion.

The Rev. Dr. C. E. Walter of York, Pa., secretary of the church extension board, spoke last evening on "Church Extension," and told of the workings of the board in making appropriations.

MAY EXCEED $7,000.

Contributions to New Presbyterian Printing House Not All Reported.

Annual contributions of Presbyterian Sunday schools toward denominational publications have not as yet been fully reported, although it is estimated the total will exceed $7,000. Most of these collections were taken up on Sunday, June 11, but many were secured last Sunday, and more are to be taken up next Sunday.

In most instances the board of publication was excluded in these contributions, owing to the proposed establishment of an independent printing house by the local presbyteries, but several churches voted to divide their contributions. A meeting will soon be held by the committee on the new scheme.

Will Hold Camp Meetings.

Methodist Episcopal clergymen held their weekly session yesterday morning and after finishing routine business heard an address on "The Intellectual Character of Christ," by the Rev. Dr. E. M. Wood. It was decided to hold camp-meetings at Tarentum beginning Sunday, July 30, and continuing three Sundays.

SWIMMING NOW IS NOT TABOOED

Men and Boys May Bathe in the Rivers Actually Under the Protection of the Police.

THEY MUST OBEY THE RULES

Swimming under police protection is a privilege the small boy will hereafter enjoy in Pittsburgh. If the boys swim at the designated places and during the hours permitted by the new regulations, and go into the water properly clad, they need not fear the police. In fact, a policeman will be stationed at the permitted "swimming holes" for the express purpose of preventing the boys from being drowned.

Director Harry Moore of the public safety department yesterday issued instructions to Police Superintendent Wallace to permit men and boys to swim in the river under certain conditions. Wallace has always been a believer in not interfering with the syimming exercises, if conducted properly, and he lost no time in following the director's orders. Before nightfall he had designated the places where swimming can be done, had arranged for police protection of the swimmers, and picked out three of the policemen who are to do the work.

Beginning today, men and boys will be allowed to bathe in the rivers between the hours of noon and 10 p. m., on condition that during the daylight hours they wear swimming trunks, at the following places: At Lock No. 1, on the north shore of the Monongahela river; at the foot of South Twenty-second street, on the south bank; at the foot of Main street, West End, in the Ohio river; in the rear of the Exposition buildings, in the Allegheny river; at the foot of Thirty-sixth street and the foot of Fifty-third street, in the Allegheny river.

At each swimming place a policeman will be on duty. He can wear any clothes he pleases, but he must carry a policeman's badge. Each of the six policemen will have at his disposal a 16-foot skiff, with oars and swivel rowlocks. The policemen will be on duty from noon until 10 o'clock at night. They will be expected to maintain order among the swimmers, frown upon the tying of gnots in shirts and trousers, and save all boys from drowning. Each boat will be supplied with grappling hooks and a pike pole. The policemen will all be instructed in the art of resuscitating the apparently drowned. Supt. Wallace yesterday picked out three policemen for the duty, Conrad Kennedy, John J. McDonough and Charles Cooper. They and the others to be appointed will make daily reports to their respective stations, and will give the names of all boys who had to be saved from a watery grave.

Men and boys may bathe only at the places designated, during the hours specified. If caught at other times and at other places they will be arrested. Wallace admits that it may be necessary to designate additional places, and says that will be done whenever necessary. He does not think that a mile is too far for a boy to walk to take a swim.

CZAR AGAIN PROMISES REPRESENTATIVE ASSEMBLY

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 19.—Emperor Nicholas received the zemstvos' deputation this morning.

Prince Troubetskoy, president of the zemstvo congress of the Moscow government, described the serious conditions existing in Russian which had caused the zemstvo to approach his majesty directly. The emperor evidently was much impressed. M. Fedoroff, representing the St. Petersburg delegation, also spoke. His majesty replied expressing deep regret at the great sacrifices consequent on the war and above everything at the disaster to the Russian navy. In conclusion the emperor said:

"I thank you, gentlemen, for the sentiments expressed and I join in your desire to bring about a new order of things. My personal wish and my will as emperor to summon a national assembly, is unshakable. I will await with anxiety the carrying out of this my will. You can announce this to the inhabitants of the towns and villages throughout Russia, and from today you will assist me in this new work. The national assembly will establish as formerly a united Russia, and the emperor will be the supreme support of the conditions based on the principle of Russian nationalism."

The address from the zemstvos' congress, which the delegation presented, was especially bold, not containing the usual terms of respect.

WILL START FOR CANADA.

The convention proper opens on Thursday and continues until the Tuesday following. A preliminary convention for field workers will begin this evening and remain in session until the main convention opens. Among local delegates who will leave this morning are: William C. Lilley, S. E. Gill and wife, the Rev. Dr. C. E. Wilbur and wife, Samuel Young and daughter, Miss Alice E. Hamlin, H. J. Heinz and J. W. Kinnear, president of the Allegheny County association.

HORSE BREAKS FOR STALL AND BOYS FOOT THE BILL

Nicholas Moss and Frank DePalm, Italian lads of Braddock, yesterday paid $50 for the pleasure of a short drive. They had a smashup at a livery stable and the proprietor had them arrested for reckless driving. The boys said they were driving past the stable and the horse, being tired, bolted through the door in spite of their efforts to restrain him.

MAY BUY MAGEE SITE TONIGHT

RECOMMEND TWO OFFERS

Effort will be made tonight to have the central board of education buy the Magee site for the new high school. It is believed that the friends of this plot have the votes to win.

When the committee met last night three new proposals were read. Two came from L. A. Clark & Co. The first was for eight pieces of property fronting 447.40 feet in Craig street, 528.61 feet in Bayard street and 387.80 feet in Neville street, for $432,000; the second offer from this firm was the Heeren and Hoffman property in Center street, Millvale avenue and Enfield avenue, containing 4.7 acres at $50,000 an acre, or $235,000. The third new offer was from Dr. W. R. Hamilton of a piece of property fronting 550 feet in Winebiddle avenue, 300 feet in Friendship avenue and 550 feet in Gross street, for $200,000.

When these had been read John F. O'Toole offered a resolution recommending the board purchase the property of Judge C. Magee as covered by his offer of November 10, 1903; the price to be $500,000, of which $5,000 would be paid at once; $95,000 on April 1, 1906; $100,000 on April 1, 1907, and $100,000 on April 1, 1908; deferred payments to bear 4 4 per cent interest.

Henry McEwen asked if the board had any money to buy property. Chairman John H. McIlroy said it had not, but it had $200,000 to put up a new building. John T. Fox said money could be transferred. Mr. O'Toole said that was why he fixed on $5,000 for a cash payment, as that amount could be secured by a transfer.

Then the vote was taken. Messrs. McEwen, Fox and O'Toole voted for the resolution and Messrs. Daniel Whitemore, Charles H. Bradley, George W. Gosser and Chairman McIlroy against it, so it failed. Mr. Gosser moved that the Loughrey property be recommended, but the motion was lost. Mr. Bradley moved that the Singer-Mashey site be approved at a price of $225,000. Messrs. Whitmore, Bradley, Gosser and Chairman McIlroy voted for and Messrs. Fox, McEwan and O'Toole against the motion, and it was declared carried. This was the first time a committee of the board has recommended a site since the new building movement was revived two years ago.

Mr. O'Toole gave notice that he would present a minority report favoring the Magee site and this led, on Mr. Bradley's suggestion, to the adoption of a new motion in which the committee recommended the Singer-Mashey and the Magee sites.

The central board will meet tonight. In addition to the two sites recommended and the three offered last night, the list includes the Lloyd site, Fifth and Bellefield avenues, $350,000; the Riding academy site, Bayard and Neville streets, $432,000; the Loughrey site, Woodlawn avenue and Forbes street, $175,000; the Haelman site, Dallas and Northumberland avenues, $200,000; the Seffers sites, Forbes street, $146,000, and $110,000, and two locations on the Schenley farm. The outlook is favorable for the Magee site being bought tonight. There have been several caucuses held and considerable work done and last night it was said the Magee people had the votes to win.

FRANCE HAS AGREED TO PROPOSED CONFERENCE

Informs Germany She Will Accept Invitation Provided the Limits Are Defined.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, June 19.—Premier Rouvier has informed Prince Radolin, the German ambassador at Paris, that France is inclined to accept the invitation to take part in the proposed conference on Morocco, provided the German and French governments can reach a mutually satisfactory agreement as to the precise points to be considered, which the German foreign office believes is posible. Foreign Secretary Lansdowne has, it is understood, said that if France accepted Great Britain would also accept.

There is general belief in naval circles that Great Britain is seeking an excuse to check the great progress being made in the German sea armament. Naval officers say that Great Britain would be willing that France should suffer defeat on land if Britain thereby was given a chance to destroy the German navy. As a result of this feeling there is great activity in the German navy.

PARIS, June 19.—The improvement in the Franco-German situation continued today and the officials expressed the belief that the crisis was past and that the affair was on the way toward speedy adjustment on the basis of a conference within defined limits. A dispatch to the Temps from Metz says there is much military activity on both sides along the frontier, centered on the result of the diplomatic negotiations.

W. & J. Defeats Homestead.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 19.—For the second time this season Washington and Jefferson college defeated Fisher's Homestead Independents, 8 to 5. The contest was characterized by hard hitting and many errors. Homestead took the lead by misplays in the early stages and held it until the eighth inning, when it went to pieces. Three hits, a base on balls, a man hit by a pitched ball and four errors gave Washington and Jefferson seven runs. The feature was the batting of Eastley. Score:

COUNTY DETECTIVES WILL GO AFTER PUBLIC GAMES

District Attorney Has No Fault to Find With Private Parties, but Will Instruct Officers to Lay for the Gamblers

"We have considerable evidence at hand," said District Attorney R. E. Stewart yesterday, "showing that gambling is carried on rather extensively in the large cities of the county, and as soon as we can get enough to justify us, the county detectives will make raids. We will not wait for any police department to take the matter up, for we feel assured that in many cases some person is protecting the gamblers. Director Moore, I feel confident, tries to do his whole duty in the matter, but it is easy to fool the head of any department.

"I have received numerous letters advising me where such and such a game of poker or gambling joint is being run, and in each instance, where a responsible party writes the letter, I start the county detective force moving. Several of the men are now engaged in looking up these cases in the cities. It is our purpose to put an end to gambling of all forms, except games in private families, over which we do not have jurisdiction, and do not care to handle.

"It is only the notorious public joints that the county detective force will investigate and raid when the proper evidence is at hand. Many of the letters I receive stating that gambling is going on are undisguised, and the games turn out to be those engaged in by a few members of a club formed for a legitimate purpose. We are not going to invade small private affairs of that kind, but where a club is only a makeshift for a gambling joint and regular outfits for gambling are maintained, we propose to arrest the proprietors and close up the shop.

"As soon as I get the proper information upon which to swear out a warrant the county detectives will act, and act promptly, irrespective of where the game is being carried on. I propose to use the county force to suppress crime, no matter what part of the county it is in, although I would much prefer not to invade the large cities, where separate forces are paid to keep the peace and run down criminals. I have received letters from all kinds of persons, some complaining and giving enough facts to start proceedings; other complaining of a little private game, run probably for one night at a private residence, where the writer lost his money and wants revenge.

"The county detective force is not in the revenge business, but will suppress all places where crime lurks, no matter what sort of a place it might be. All semi-private, but in reality public games of chance, will be dealt with severely if we can get the evidence to shut up the place. I do not care to mention any names at present, or until warrants are sworn out."

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

CONGRESSMAN ACHESON IS CHOSEN CHAIRMAN

Will Conduct Republican Campaign in Washington County—He Scores the Fusionists.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 19.—Congressman E. F. Acheson was today elected chairman of the Washington county Republican committee by acclamation. Richard G. Miller and T. H. W. Fergus both of Washington, were named secretaries. The meeting was attended by an unusually large number of committeemen and the session was enthusiastic. Congressman Acheson in accepting, delivered a short speech in which he said the Republican party in Washington county will wage its campaign on the good roads platform, and that Flinn roads would be constructed all over the county if the Republicans won at the fall election. In speaking of the Taxpayers' league and the fusion movement to down the organization, he said the former was an illegitimate organization used simply as a refuge for "baffled grafters" and disappointed office seekers and that 20 per cent of the Democrats of the county would not support the latter movement. It was shown that to overcome the present majority of the Republicans, the Democrats and fusionists would be compelled to make a gain of 55 votes in each precinct. Chairman Acheson was authorized to name the county executive committee.

BEAVER, June 19.—The proposition of fusion of the Independent Republicans and the Democrats of Beaver county to oppose the regular nominees and make R. S. Holt the judge, and the remainder of the ticket a mixture of Republicans and Democrats, received a setback today when two conservative Democrats, William J. Mellon and Washington M. Potter, announced themselves as candidates for the Democratic judicial nomination. Democratic County Chairman W. H. Wilson issued a letter to the Democrats today, urging them to support fusion.

BROOKVILLE, June 19.—The Republican county convention held here today to ratify the results of Saturday's primaries was a harmonious gathering. Dr. J. W. Foust of Reynoldsville was chairman. The ticket nominated follows: President judge, John W. Reed; prothonotary, C. H. Blood; register and recorder, Joseph B. Means; treasurer, Ira J. Campbell; sheriff, Grant Scheafnocker; commissioners, John S. Barr and J. H. Kelly; auditors, T. B. Adams and G. H. Small. Joseph B. Henderson of Brookville was elected county chairman.

WOMAN STARTS RUN ON BANK.

Daughter of an Official Withdraws Her Money, Which Gives the Depositors a Scare.

AKRON, O., June 19.—There was considerable excitement here today over the continued run on the Second National bank. The run started Saturday. One of the depositors saw the daughter of an official of the bank withdraw her deposit, and from this the rumor started something was wrong. A total of $500,000 has been withdrawn since Saturday.

The officials are not trying to stop the run, but are paying out as the depositors call for their money. The bank has a surplus of $40,000 and a capital of $250,000.

CHILDREN'S DAY MIGHT CAUSE STAGE AMBITIONS

SPRINGFIELD, O., June 19.—The Mennonites at New Carlisle and vicinity are against Children's day exercises. The Mennonite Brethren Sunday school convention has adopted resolutions to that effect on the ground that speaking, singing and other features of the program create a taste for the stage among the children and should therefore not be encouraged.

Receipts and subscriptions of the company during the past year from all sources exceed $50,000. The new mill will be in operation the latter part of August, or early in September at the latest.

ONE MARY HEALED WOUND ANOTHER HAD INFLICTED

Mike Morish, a Homestead Slav, went to the office of Justice George W. Giles last Friday in company with Mary Popovich and asked the justice to procure a marriage license for them as soon as possible, as they were anxious to be joined in wedlock. The license was secured on Saturday and that evening Mike returned to the office of the justice and asked him to erase the name of Mary Popovich from the license and substitute that of Mary Pastor. In explanation Mike stated that the first Mary met another man on Friday night whom she liked better and was married on Saturday. The second Mary was willing to comfort Mike's wounded feelings, and yesterday another marriage license was secured and they were married.

CHARGES SLEUTH WITH BLACKMAIL

Frank Joy and John P. Graham Are on Trial for Alleged Conspiracy.

"SUE" WILLIAMS IS INDICTED

Frank Joy of the Joy detective agency and John P. Graham were on trial in criminal court yesterday on a charge of conspiracy brought by John H. Fisher, who claims the defendants tried to blackmail him. The case grows out of a sale of stock of the Sheppard Manufacturing Company, of which Fisher is a member.

Stock was sold to a Miss Gwynn, who was given a position demonstrating the firm's goods. She became dissatisfied with her purchase and demanded the return of her money, and is alleged to have hired Joy's agency to gather evidence against Fisher. It was during Joy's investigation, so it is alleged, that threats were made to send Fisher to the penitentiary if he would not produce evidence desired. Both Fisher and his wife were on the stand for the prosecution, and Miss Gwynn and Graham for the defense. Graham denied that he ever had any connection with Joy's detective agency.

True bills were found by the grand jury against "Sue" Williams, one of the principal witnesses for the commonwealth in the Allegheny graft cases. The prosecutor is John Glenn, assistant superintendent of the Allegheny police, who charges her with selling liquor illegally and on Sunday, and with keeping a disorderly house.

Other true bills are: Felony, John Berkenbush; larceny, Patrick Barry, George Bukowick, Virginia Clegg, Tony Savage, Charles E. Madden et al., John Welsh et al.; felonious assault, Rosario De Fatta; assault and battery, Gust Tampling, J. D. Heidler, Antonio Lepallo, James Voloish; false pretense, Frank Hosack, Charles Schriner, Ruben Strangold, Mattie Simcox; aggravated assault and battery, Ed Kirby; embezzlement, W. Perry Lemley, entering a building, Harry McIntyre, James Plunkett; conspiracy, Dora Nesbit; misdemeanor, William Perkins, Charles Reinhart, Peter Schlatter, Charles Schriner, Mary Stangeski.

Woke Up in Columbus.

Robert E. Greive, former assistant auditor of the Wabash railroad, who is charged with absconding with $2,600, which he had stolen from the safe, was placed on trial on a charge of larceny. The alleged theft occurred last September, and Greive was arrested in a cheap lodging house at Cincinnati four months later by a detective with only a few cents in his pockets. Greive entered a plea of not guilty and when placed on the stand maintained that he did not take the money, but had left town while in a daze from the effects of liquor.

W. M. Granger, the railroad detective who arrested Greive at Cincinnati, said that he had learned of the man's whereabouts through the prisoner's wife and that Greive appeared to be in bad shape. He denied that he had got Greive drunk in the hope of securing a confession from him, but admitted that Greive had drank considerably on the way to Pittsburgh.

Greive said that he had been drinking hard for two weeks before he left town, but had managed to take care of his work. He said he remembered being at the office the night the money disappeared, but does not know what followed. He wakened up in a house at Columbus, O., he said, the next morning, and then he had another period of darkness for a week, when he came around and started for Cincinnati. Greive was still on the stand when court adjourned.

Raider Pays the Costs.

The costs in seven speakeasy cases were placed on John Mathoe, the prosecutor, in criminal court at the request of Assistant District Attorney W. D. Grimes. The defendants were John Fink, Mike Kalliwitch, Tony Zanpetta, Lucian Malthat, John Harrish, John Barozelo and Batiste Beroni, all Hungarian residents of Imperial. They were charged with selling liquor illegally. Mathoe said he had been engaged by a wholesale liquor dealer of Carnegie to clean up the speakeasies about Imperial. When asked for his evidence against the defendants he had none to offer. All the cases were being tried before one jury, and at the request of Mr. Grimes verdicts of acquittal followed.

A preliminary injunction was granted in the equity suit of the Versailles Fuel Gas Company against William E. Hayden and Ignacz Jacobs, restraining the defendants from making further informations against the plaintiff's employes or causing their arrest. The plaintiff's employes have been arrested, it is alleged, while engaged in removing a pipe line from inside of the defendants.

Riegel & Fowler, architects, entered suit against the Methodist Episcopal church of Mt. Washington to recover $1,750 alleged to be due. The plaintiffs claim they entered into a contract to prepare plans for a new church and to audit all accounts for its erection, but that when a question arose as to the thickness of the walls the defendants refused to allow them to proceed, although the plaintiffs agreed to make the walls thicker.

Must Produce Child in Court.

A writ of habeas corpus was issued directing Mrs. Maria Calloway to bring Sadie Morris into court on June 24. The child is between 8 and 9 years old, and is the daughter of James Morris, who is the petitioner. He alleges Mrs. Calloway, the child's grandmother, refused to give her up. The child was placed in her custody on the death of her mother.

Petitions were filed in common pleas court No. 2 for the removal of the suits of the Standard Leather Company against the Norwich Union Fire Insurance society, the Rochester-German Insurance Company, the Northwestern Assurance Company and the Western Assurance Company and the United States circuit court. The court ordered security to be given and the cases transferred.

Elizabeth Brown, a washerwoman, entered suit against Mrs. Elsie Welks, asking $1,000 for alleged slander. She avers that the defendant accused her of taking a watch while picking up her clothes.

From now until further orders common pleas court No. 1 will hold court on Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

Libels in divorce were filed by Hallie Blanche Frankfort against Peter Henry Frankfort, desertion; Dora Schmidt against Louis Alice Schmidt, alleging desertion and infidelity, and Abbie Finley against Walter A. Finley, alleging desertion.

Lewis Feick, who has property at Brownsville and Lick Run roads, Snowden township, brings suit against Lewis Hertel asking $1,000 damages. He alleges the defendant diverted a natural water course into a sewer, which causes water to overflow his property.

To Argue Steiner Case.

The spring term of federal court has been finished, and on Friday Judge Joseph Buffington will hear arguments for new trials, principally among which is that of Edith Isabella Gilbley against Klaus F. Steiner, the suit for breach of promise tried several weeks ago. Other cases in which new trials are asked are: John F. Wilcox vs. Semet-Solvay Company, Cascade Foundry Company vs. L. J. Mueller Furnace Company, Frank E. Balnum vs. American Bridge Company, Hunter Smith vs. American Tin Plate Company, Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company vs. Northern Central Life Insurance Company, Pittsburgh Dredging and Construction Company vs. Monongahela and Western Dredging Company. In all the cases the juries found large verdicts for the plaintiffs.

Shuff Fails to Appear.

Commissioner H. D. Gamble held another hearing in the Grant boulevard case yesterday, the attorneys on both sides being present. J. L. Shuff, the Cincinnati plaintiff, was not present, although he had wired he would be here. The hearing was a secret one and nothing was given out concerning the case. About 11 o'clock the attorneys became involved in a dispute and adjourned to present it to Judge Buffington. The hearing adjourned at 12 o'clock, when the court failed to put in an appearance. Daily hearings will probably be held.

MITCHELL IN PERSON PLEADS NOT GUILTY

PORTLAND, ORE., June 19.—To insure the government against any technical objections to the plea of not guilty made by United States Senator John H. Mitchell through his attorneys last week, United States District Attorney Heney today had Senator Mitchell appear in court in person to make his plea. The senator pleaded not guilty to the charges preferred against him in connection with the land fraud cases in this state. The trial will open tomorrow.

LOVE-LORN CLERK SHOOTS HIMSELF AT DESK

NEW YORK, June 19.—(Special.)—Seated at a high desk and surrounded by a dozen fellow clerks, Harry Bencke, 19 years old, filing clerk in the office of J. C. Stewart, the general manager of the Erie railroad, this afternoon suddenly drew a revolver and fired a bullet into his forehead. He died within 15 minutes. Employes of the office say the young man had a love affair and had been brooding for several days.

FIND A REPORT IN OLD RECORDS

CRITICISED BY S. W. BLACK

The movement begun by the chamber of commerce to investigate the recent Pennsylvania railroad wreck at Harrisburg ended yesterday at a meeting of the chamber directors in a report of the committee on transportation and railroads. Originally the investigation was entrusted to a special committee of three members, but at a meeting of the body a few days later, the affair was taken out of the hands of the special committee and referred to the committee that made yesterday's report. At a former meeting two members of the chamber asserted that the meeting was packed by the interests which wanted a colorless treatment of the Harrisburg disaster. The chief feature of the committee's report was the assertion that not a Pintsch gas tank had exploded at the Harrisburg wreck, although the committee did not say what the things were which surviving passengers saw exploding under the cars and throwing missiles in all directions.

The meeting was the last regular meeting of the directors during the summer months. It was presided over by President John Eaton.

The report of the committee on railroads and transportation was offered by its chairman, Maj. A. P. Burchfield. The report expatiated on the harmfulness of the Pintsch gas tanks and said that not one had exploded at the Harrisburg wreck, and only one was fractured.

Gas Caused No Deaths.

The committee also devoted some space to recounting the findings of the interstate commerce commission relative to the causes of deaths by accident on railroads, not one death having been caused by exploding gas. The Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, the committee said, had full and explicit directions in force concerning the transportation of explosives, going as far as seemed possible in securing safety. Here again the committee told what the interstate commission had done in trying to secure the enactment by congress of bills regulating the transportation of explosives, but said that the opposition of dealers in and manufacturers of explosives prevented final action. The committee said it had intended to recommend regulations to insure the greater safety of passengers on railroads, but the railroads themselves were already doing such a good work in that direction that recommendations from the committee would be superfluous. Despite the perfection of the gas tanks now in use the committee recommend, however, the substitution of electric lighting on passenger cars.

The substance of the report, the report itself said, had been secured through the interstate commerce commission, congressional reports, railway officers, and men who have passed years of business life in the manufacture and sale of explosives, and that the report made no statement that was not "a consensus of agreement by all parties interested."

"All Interested"—Except Passengers.

This last paragraph gave Samuel W. Black a cue, and he asked Maj. Burchfield if among all the "parties interested" the committee interviewed it had also talked to passengers who were in the Harrisburg wreck, and thought they saw gas tanks exploding.

"No," Maj. Burchfield said, "the committee did not see any passengers; it took the evidence submitted before the coroner's jury."

Mr. Black dryly remarked: "I think your committee did not go to enough trouble in this matter."

The report was adopted, Mr. Black casting the sole negative vote.

The proposition to send a delegate, whose expenses were to be paid, to the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce at Liege, Belgium, next September, was lost.

The committee on filtration offered a resolution praising City Controller John B. Larkin for securing a reduction of interest on the filtration bonds and putting through the principle that the bonds should be issued only as needed. The resolution was approved.

A resolution pledging the chamber's support for the enactment by the legislature of a personal registration bill was adopted. John Eaton and George H. Anderson were appointed a committee to attend a meeting of the Ohio Valley improvement association in Cincinnati on June 29 and 30.

A resolution offered by L. A. Clark asking the chamber to reaffirm its action taken on the hump removal last year, was referred to the committee on municipal affairs, and another Clark resolution commending the action so far taken by the city councils looking toward the removal of the hump was adopted.

PRAISES OUR SETTLEMENTS.

British Blue Book Tells of Haggard's Investigation of Salvation Army Work in America.

LONDON, June 19.—The report submitted by H. Rider Haggard, who as commissioner of the colonial office has recently been investigating the conditions and character of agricultural and industrial land settlements organized in the United States by the Salvation Army, was issued as a parliamentary blue book this evening.

The report speaks in the most favorable terms of the settlements and says that similar settlements might be successfully established in the colonies, as a means of providing for the surplus agricultural population of the United Kingdom in different parts of the empire, especially in Canada, where, according to a letter received from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, the government is prepared to set aside 240,000 acres for this purpose.

CHINESE VISITOR FAILS TO CALL UPON MAYOR

His excellency Kang Yee Del did not call upon Mayor Hays during his visit to Pittsburgh yesterday. Yesterday a messenger delivered a letter, addressed to the mayor's private secretary, asking for an audience in the afternoon. The mayor responded that he was ready to receive the distinguished traveler immediately or tomorrow, explaining that he would be out of town today. No answer was received. The Chinaman and his suite left last night for Washington to call upon Secretary John Hay.

A LETTER TO OUR READERS.

53 Cottage St., Melrose, Mass.
Dear Sir: Jan. 11, 1904.

"Ever since I was in the army I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it become so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

"I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

"I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers, I am very truly yours,

"I. C. RICHARDSON."

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root. If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CONDITIONS NAMED FOR COMPETITION

Plans Are Outlined for Rodeph Shalom Jewish Temple to Cost $150,000.

Advance programs of the competition to select an architect for the new Rodeph Shalom temple in Fifth avenue, near Bidwell street, were received yesterday. The program was devised by Prof. Warren P. Laird of the University of Pennsylvania, who will supervise the contest and render judgment with the accord of the building committee of the congregation.

The fee of the winning architect will be in the neighborhood of $7,500, while the building is to cost approximately $150,000. Six architects are to compete, as announced previously in The Gazette. The program calls for simple designs and announces that the idea to prevail is that of the "institutional church, devoted to charitable and social as well as religious work." A special plea is made for simplicity in the main auditorium to conform with the Jewish ritual, and this auditorium is to contain not less than 1,450 sittings, of which not more than 350 are to be in the gallery. A choir gallery is also recommended.

On the auditorium, or first floor, are to be the Sunday school rooms, eight in number, each to seat at least 50. An additional auditorium is asked for to seat 250, which can be opened into the Sunday school rooms, to accommodate a total of over 600 persons. Provisions are to be made on the second floor for a pastor's study, 250 square feet in area; two parlors, each 300 square feet; a library, 400 square feet, while recommendations are made for a liberal supply of lavatories and cloak rooms throughout the building. Request is made for plans for a kitchen, storeroom and boiler-room in the basement. No special style of design is called for, although it is definitely stated that Moorish and Gothic styles of architecture are not wanted. Recommendation is made for a large lobby to lead from the street into the main auditorium.

The competitive designs are to be in the hands of Prof. Laird at the University of Pennsylvania at noon on September 9, accompanied by a sealed, opaque envelope to contain the name of the competitor, which will be numbered upon receipt and the envelopes at once forwarded to the building committee. Prof. Laird will then pass upon the designs and make his recommendations to the building committee, who will have full powers of selection.

Co-Operative Prices
are the lowest prices known and not as the usual "low prices" created by a sacrifice of quality, but entirely by a saving of selling expenses.
The goods handled by a co-operative store are known the world over for their high standard of quality, because the share holders of a co-operative store are also its best customers, and, therefore, being interested financially, will not permit any adulterative substitution or other methods of lowering quality to the detriment of their future business. By dealing with a co-operative store you are assured of a large saving of money, and an absolute guarantee that the saving is not offset by a corresponding decrease of grade or quality.

THE PIRATES WIN AND DRAW CLOSER TO THE GIANTS

BROOKLYN EASY FOR THE PIRATES

Hanlon's Crew Field in Fine Style, but Fail to Gauge the Curves of Leever.

PRETTY PLAYS ARE MADE

Ned Hanlon and his troupe of tail-enders made their first appearance of the season at Exposition park yesterday afternoon. The Pirates found them easy picking, getting away with the first game 7 to 2. The turn out of spectators amounted to only 1,500, and they found things rather uncomfortable in the weather way, even if the result of the contest was in the line to please.

Mal Eason, the Brookville boy, was on the rubber for the visitors, and the assortment of curves he served did not fool the local batsmen in the least. In fact they seemed to like them, particularly Clymer, who out of four times at bat, had three singles and a three-bagger. The other Pirates with a few exceptions managed to work in a few hits which will go towards swelling their batting averages nicely, and they owe a few to Harry Pulliam.

The Brooklyn team is a sort of a misfit organization which plays well in spots, but in other spots it might be well to close one's eyes and nothing would be missed. In the fielding line they showed to fair advantage yesterday, particularly Malay, a young second baseman who made his first appearance before the local public. This youngster had ten fielding chances to take care of during the afternoon, and he accepted them all without the least sign of a slip up. The other players also performed their fielding part to a nicety.

The weakness of the Brooklynites yesterday was in batting, and unless Hanlon can scrape up a few more hitters his team will have a hard time getting out of last place. Sam Leever, who was on the rubber for the locals, held the visitors safe in all but one inning, the sixth, and in that one alone the Hanlons crew managed to give a clever batting exhibition and secured their two runs. With one out, Dobbs singled and Sheckard and Lumley followed with perfect bunts filling the bases. "Brownie" Gessler, who is covering first for Brooklyn, hit in the two runs with a single to right.

The Pirates got after Eason's curves in the first inning when two runs were scored. Clymer, the first batter, drove a single to right and Clarke tried for a sacrifice which Gessler made a mess of, and both runners were safe. Beaumont advanced the men a base by a sacrifice and Wagner brought both home with a single to left. In the second Ritchey drew a base on balls and got second on a sacrifice by Carisch, an out at first and a single by Clymer.

The locals kept the run getting up in the third when Beaumont led off with a base on balls and Leach tried for a sacrifice. Eason, who got the ball, tried to field Beaumont out at second, but missed the play as Beau was too speedy. Wagner laced Leach at second, Beaumont reaching third on the play. Hans at once stole second and both runners scored on a single to right by Howard. Clarke led off the fifth by driving the ball against the left field bleachers and he scored on Leach's out at first. Clymer opened the seventh with a three-base drive down the left foul line, and he scored on a two-base drive by Beaumont along the same line.

The game had many pretty fielding features, both sides contributing. One pretty play was made by Batch when he grabbed in Ritchey's hot liner in the third, and doubled Howard at first. Another neat play was made by Leach in the eighth inning when he went up into the air and pulled down Gessler's bid for a hit. It was Leach's only chance of the game, and it was sensational enough to draw cheers from the sweltering crowd. The score:

COLLEGIANS PLAY AN EXCITING CONTEST

Shultz and King Battle for Ten Hard Innings at Indiana Normal School.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANA, PA., June 19.—The Pittsburgh collegians began their season here today by playing the Normal school nine a 10-inning tie game. The contest was one of the most exciting seen here in years and it was a battle all the way between the great "Toots" Shultz and Joe King, the local southpaw. Each side scored two runs, and the teams might be playing yet had it not been necessary to call off hostilities to permit the Pittsburghers to catch a train home. The Collegians made two blunders on the bases, which cost them the game. King owes the small score on his part to his ability to field his position.

Indiana scored in the fourth, when Trainor singled, took second on a passed ball and came home on O'Leary's two-bagger. The Collegians tied the score in the fifth. Price hit for three bases and scored on the "squeeze play," McCracken bunting toward first. Pfeifer reached first on Campbell's error and Herrington sacrificed. Russell laced the ball a welt into left for two bases and Pfeifer scored. Huber began the Normal's ninth with a double and scored on King's single to short left.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd of students, who turned out to see the former Interscholastic stars play. "Ling" Moffet, the Normal's captain, joined his old teammates after the game today and a large crowd cheered him as the train was pulling out of the depot. Score of game:

GAMES PLAYED ON THE INDEPENDENT CIRCUIT

Umpire Sims gave the game yesterday between McKeesport and Braddock to Braddock, 9 to 0, on account of the McKeesport team leaving the field on a decision of a hit ball along third base. Braddock was one run behind and in the third inning it had a man on third with Unrue at the bat. He was given the signal to bunt and he placed one toward third base. Orbin ran up on the ball and put his foot against it, causing the ball to go foul. Umpire Sims called the ball fair and Keller scored, which tied the game. McKeesport then left the field and the game was awarded to Braddock after a lapse of five minutes. Score:

August E. Succop Proves Buyer of the Western Union Building

The Property at 249 Fifth Avenue Sold for $350,000.

August E. Succop, president of the Germania Savings bank, is the buyer of the property at 249 Fifth avenue, sold by James Marshall for the Henry W. Oliver estate about 10 days ago. Among all the guesses that have been made on the street since the sale was announced, not once was Mr. Succop's name mentioned as the probable buyer, so that this announcement is likely to cause no little comment, especially as the institution with which Mr. Succop is allied is one of the group of Colonial Trust Company banks. On that account the purchase may have a significance as affecting the location of some financial institution hereafter.

The Fifth avenue lot, which brought $350,000, is 30x240 feet, extending back to an alley. The building on it is under 14 years' lease to the Western Union Telegraph Company at a comparatively low rental. As this lease was made in 1898, it has seven years yet to run, which materially lessens the cash value of the property. The present price is $75,000 more than was paid for the property in 1902, and figures at the rate of $11,666 a front foot, or $82.74 a square foot.

MINNEMEYER'S MAN HOLDS JOB FOR DAY

Appoints Clerk in His Office and Then Takes Clark's Candidate.

City Clerk Minnemeyer yesterday appointed C. B. Maits clerk in his office, and after Maits had served only one day, Minnemeyer stated last night that he had agreed to make a new appointment and install Frederick A. Davidson as successor to Maits. Davidson is the candidate whose appointment was indorsed by the Twentieth ward Citizens organization, headed by Director Clark and the three common councilmen of the ward.

Minnemeyer said that the difficulties existing between himself and the Twentieth ward organization would be adjusted and that Davidson would take the position today. The dispute over this $80 per month job caused a bitter controversy. Both candidates are from the Twentieth ward, but Director Clark and his lieutenants claimed they had been promised the appointment.

TO SUPPLY STERILE MILK TO POOR AT NOMINAL COST

Charitable Organization Will Open Two Depots Today and Will Conduct Its Own Plant.

Announcement was made at a meeting of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Sterilized Milk association, held yesterday, that depots are to be opened in Robinson street, Allegheny, and in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, Pittsburgh, this afternoon or tomorrow morning, for the distribution of sterilized milk among the poor at a nominal cost, and that within a few weeks the association would conduct its own sterilizing plant.

Mrs. Enoch Rauh is president and Mrs. F. R. Wade is secretary of the organization, while among the prominent churchmen actively identified are the Rev. Drs. S. Edward Young and J. Leonard Levy, and the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead, of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The association has already collected $2,000 and formal requests for aid will be sent out today. The association has secured a $10,000 option on a sterilizing plant, but will not undertake to shoulder this expense for the present. The purchase of this plant is, however, contemplated at a later date. Besides the two distributing points to be opened today or tomorrow, negotiations are under way to open two more depots Dr. Young will ask Director Bigelow today for the privilege of taking up a collection at the Schenley park religious meeting next Sunday for the association. The only time previously when a collection was asked for in the park was during the famine in India, when $1,000 was raised.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN.

Last Sunday's Gazette Carried More Summer Resort and Hotel Advertising Than Has Ever Been Printed in Any Pittsburgh Newspaper.

Two hundred and three distinct and separate hotels and summer resorts employed last Sunday's issue of The Gazette as their medium for reaching prospective patrons from Pittsburgh and vicinity. Their announcements occupied nearly two full pages and comprised a most complete and valuable guide to people who are contemplating a summer vacation.

This remarkable showing of advertising came to The Gazette in the regular course of business and strictly on the merits of the paper as a medium for covering the Pittsburgh field. No other Pittsburgh paper has ever approached this record and it may be added that The Gazette regularly carries more summer resort advertising than all other papers in Pennsylvania (outside of Philadelphia) combined.

The remarkable increase in this advertising establishes three facts:

First—That Pittsburgh is the recognized center of summer resort patronage in Pennsylvania.

Second—That The Gazette is the recognized medium for reaching this class of patronage.

Third—That summer resort hotels anticipate a larger volume of business the present summer than in any previous season.

For the benefit of those desiring additional information not given on the summer resort page, The Gazette has established a bureau of information, and circulars and pamphlets as to the rates, etc., of any of the hotels advertised will be furnished on application.

SUMMER OPERA CONTINUES POPULAR

At the Cool Nixon "Johnny" Still Goes Marching Joyfully Home Every Night.

Pittsburgh has pretty clearly demonstrated that she will support summer opera in a theater—if it is good. The Carleton Opera Company with Stange and Edwards' comic opera, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," literally broke the ice last week, for despite the general need of that hot-weather commodity, every where outside, large audiences forgot that it was summer in their enjoyment of the best all around light opera production that the Pittsburgh amusement seeker has found in "the good old summer time." The martial music, the lilting choruses and the quintets, quartets, duos and solos of this charming piece of light music are becoming popular whistling themes, and the presence of the novel hoop-skirt girls and quaint costumes of '61 have created interest not only in the theater but on the streets and in the shopping centers. So popular has "Johnny" become that he inaugurated a second week last night in the face of heat and humidity that promises to be as great as the first week.

The company is in individual and collective better shape than on the opening evening. W. P. Carleton has gotten back into opera form and sings the role of "Johnny" with great spirit, his two solos, "My Own United States" and "Kate, My Southern Rose," being among the gems of the opera. The beautiful quintet, "Suwanee," the duet "When Our Line In Roses Met" and Mr. Bray's capital song, "Honeysuckle Girl," all remain prime favorites, while the chorus and the pickaninnies are particular features of a really pleasing and delightful entertainment. So far as iced air can make a building cool the Nixon is cool, considerably more so than it is anywhere out doors, "Johnny" is going to keep on marching all this week, but the "Mikado" is in preparation by the excellent company.

ITALIAN BAND POPULAR.

Capone's Musicians Make a Hit With Great Crowds at Pittsburgh's Luna Park.

Seventeen thousand people passed through the gates of Luna park last night. The sweet notes of Capone's Italian Military band were heard far beyond the narrow confines of the park, and thousands gathered in front of the band pavilion during the concert. Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" was the principal number and the musical features included not only the usual intermezzo, but the entire second part of the opera. With tremendous applause the crowd demanded an encore and one of Sousa's sprightly marches was given. Luders' descriptive fantasie, "The Cavalry Charge," proved a popular number.

The Flying Bicketts proved another great attraction at Luna yesterday. Their work on the trepeze was of a sensational character and won the plaudits of thousands who stood in the quadrangle. Minting, surnamed "the marvel," did some startling stunts on the unicycle. Crowds stood 300 deep waiting for tickets for the boats that shot the chutes and there were just as many willing to patronize the scenic railway. No attraction was ignored.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE BILLS.

Oakwood and Southern Parks Both Offer Pleasing Programs This Week.

Good vaudeville bills are offered at Oakwood and Southern park theaters this week. Duffy, Sawtelle and Duffy, in the sketch, "Papa's Sweetheart," at Oakwood, introduced some good comedy and kept the audience in laughter during the act. Autrim and Peters are clever in vocal and whistling imitations. The show closes with the cineograph.

On the program at Southern are Selbini and Grovini, acrobatic cyclers. Maddox and Melvin have a very comical sketch. Cliff Farrell, a musical comedian, and Alice Lewis, the dainty duchess, in songs and stories, complete the best bill of the season. The cineograph is showing the comic picture, "Wanted—a Wife."

Three Die by Violence.

GREENSBURG, June 19.—(Special.)—Three violent deaths were reported to Coroner C. A. Wynn tonight. Pleasant, was killed by a fall of slate in Southwest mine No. 1 of the H. C. Frick Coke company at Moorwood this forenoon. An unknown man was struck by a train at Bradenville this evening and instantly killed.

Sewing School for Children.

A sewing school for the children of Sewickley and vicinity was opened yesterday morning in the Sewickley public school building. The school is the gift of the woman's club, Mrs. S. B. M. Hoker, president, and will be under the supervision of a committee of which Mrs. James Todd is chairman and Mrs. John Findley secretary.

Pennsylvania in Women's League.

Miss Myra Lloyd Dock of Harrisburg, on the state forestry commission, has been invited to speak before the meeting of the Business Women's National league in New York city July 5 to 9. "Women in Out-Door Art" will be the subject of her address. Another Pennsylvania woman, Anne Rittenhouse, the newspaper writer of Philadelphia, is also on the program, which will include addresses by representative women in various lines of business throughout the country. The National League of Business Women whose ranks Pennsylvania women recently entered, was organized in August, 1904, in St. Louis, a requisite to membership being the giving of one's undivided time to earning a living. Several of the states have organized auxiliary leagues in the order named: Colorado, Massachusetts, New York, California, Wisconsin, Louisiana, Tennessee, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The first object of the national league was to establish a ranch near Denver, where tired out business women can go for rest at a cost proportionate to their means. Other states are taking up the same idea and are working to establish homes where restful influences may be had at moderate expense. New York state is taking up the proposition of erecting a building as a residence for business women who will be stockholders in the enterprise.

The president of the national league is Miss Louise Lee Iardin of Denver, editor of the Business Woman's Magazine. Its directors are Mar Wright Sewall, honorary president of the International Council of Women, Indianapolis; Elizabeth Towne, editor the Nautilus, Holyoke, Mass.; Elizabeth Richey, Plattsmouth, Neb.; Cynthia Westover Alden, New York; Matea B. Cleveland, manager Business Women's Exchange, Chicago; Mollie Catherine, Nashville, Tenn. Among the members of the league are doctors, lawyers, writers, artists, stenographers, employes in the department stores, teachers and women emerged in a variety of other pursuits, working together to help the condition of all women in business.

Head Resident Will Resign.

At a meeting of the board of managers of the Columbian Council school tomorrow afternoon, Miss Yetta Baumgarten, the head resident, will present her resignation. Miss Baumgarten has been connected with the settlement school established by the Columbian Council of Jewish Women for just a year, having been appointed the head resident last June when Miss Schoenfeld withdrew to go back to her home in Johnstown, Pa. Miss Baumgarten only promised to remain three months, but her work was so successful she was persuaded to stay through the year. Her resignation will take effect the first of October.

Making Extended Stay in Japan.

Latest reports received from Mrs. Henry J. Bailey and Mrs. Alfred Clark tell of pleasant incidents of their stay in Japan. They left Pittsburgh for the Pacific coast in February, intending to spend six months in the orient. They have been in Japan since the early spring and expect to remain there until they leave for home some time in August. Both Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Clark are members of the Travelers club, which will take up a comprehensive study of Japan commencing next October.

Kindergarten Celebration.

Exercises will be conducted tomorrow morning in the kindergarten of the Columbian Council school, Center avenue. They will consist of songs and drills by the children with several short addresses, among the speakers being the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy. The kindergarten was opened in May through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. M. Oppenheimer, who contributed the money to start it. There are 55 children in attendance.

THE THREE RIVERS

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis Island dam indicated a stage in the Ohio river of 7.4 feet and the river was stationary.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., June 19.—At 6 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 14.4 feet. Today's departures of packets from the port of Cincinnati were: Henry M. Stanley, Pomeroy; Courier, Maysville, and City of Louisville, Louisville. All of the towboats which have been here and in the rivers below have gone to headwaters and no more will come out of the Pittsburgh district until there is a rise at headwaters. J. T. Hatfield will arrive here on Thursday with a tow of coal from the Kanawha. The examination of the hull of the W. W. O'Neill, which was sunk in the canal at Louisville a few days ago, showed a hole about 10 feet long and five feet wide. The Fallie will do harbor work here for the remainder of the season. Clear and hot.

LOUISVILLE—River stationary; 5 feet 8 inches in canal; 2 feet 4 inches on falls, 12 feet below locks; weather, raining.

ALMOST BUT NOT ENOUGH.

River Coal Companies Deeply Disappointed at Failure to Get Coal Out.

There was almost a coal rise in the river yesterday, but it fell short a few inches, just the few inches necessary to make navigation of the upper Ohio safe for coal barges. The river reached a stage of 7 feet 4 inches at Davis Island dam yesterday afternoon. Every towboat in the harbor had steam up, stores aboard and crews waiting. Hundreds of men stood along Water street waiting for the boat's whistle to announce that it was ready to take on deckhands, firemen and the various other necessary employes as soon as orders were given from the office to go. But the water did not get quite high enough.

Mrs. Mary Becker Greene, captain of the steamer Greenland, plying between Pittsburgh and Charleston, W. Va., was elected chaplain of Harbor 25, Masters and Pilots association, at the election of officers of that body yesterday. She is the only woman pilot and captain on the rivers and the only woman who holds an office in the Masters and Pilots association. Other officers elected yesterday morning were: Worthy captain, W. R. Reno; first pilot, Harry Black; second pilot, A. O. Ackard; captain's clerk, A. R. Mackey; purser, D. A. McDonald, Jr.; delegate to grand harbor, T. T. Dunlevy; alternate, A. R. Mackey; trustee, P. W. Bell.

The Keystone State, from Cincinnati; the Lorena, from Zanesville; the Kanawha, from Charleston; the Ben Hur, from Parkersburg, and the Columbia, from Morgantown, were the packets in yesterday. They all brought big trips, the up-river boat carrying a heavy cargo of freight and the down-river boats having a great number of passengers. Almost every stateroom on the boats was taken. The Ben Hur had been out of the Pittsburgh trade for several weeks, her place being taken by the Bessie Smith.

The Resolute arrived yesterday and will go to the Elizabeth docks at once for repairs.

AN OLD-TIME DISH.

Our Grandmothers Used the Whole of the Wheat and Hardly Knew What Indigestion Was.

In these days of education to the use of the whole of the wheat, it is interesting to turn back the pages of time and see what our ancestors did. One of the most nourishing dishes and one of the most common, perhaps, a century or so ago, was known as "Frumenty." It is seldom, if ever, seen now, but Hutchinson, the great English food authority, states that it was very nourishing and wholesome. It was prepared by soaking the kernel of wheat in water until it swelled up and burst and then boiled in milk with the addition of sugar and salt.

That the whole of the wheat is of high value in producing bone, blood, muscle and nerve force, is proven both by chemical analysis and actual physiological experiment. Only a few years ago, fortified by exhaustive research and experiment by learned men of science, a progressive Chicago man published and circulated among the farmers of the country a book telling them of the great strength-producing qualities of wheat when fed to horses and its economy as "feed," a mere handful being sufficient to sustain a horse at hard work half a day.

In training quarters for college athletes whole wheat is recognized as of great value. Mr. Robert Otterbein, manager of the Drake University Athletic association, in speaking of this said: "I take pleasure in indorsing Malta-Vita, which we used with first-class results at our football training table. Its nutrition and consistency, we found, Malta-Vita to be the best food for our use."

That is because Malta-Vita is the whole of the wheat and rich in proteids, which Hutchinson says can alone build up and repair tissue. Malta-Vita is an extended and elaborated process of the old way of making "Frumenty." The whole wheat grain is cleaned of its husk, then bathed in water, cooked in steam to gelatinize the starch, then allowed to stand in coolers (where it is carefully watched by an expert) just long enough to allow the gelatinized starch cells to break down, then it is treated with barley malt instead of sugar, as the barley malt and the gelatinized starch make "maltose" or malt sugar—highly nutritious and most easily digested. Thus Malta-Vita is scientifically prepared to meet the requirements of the trained athlete and the convalescent. To each it gives strength, blood, bone and muscle, and to either's stomach it is ready to be taken up by the blood without taxing the digestive ferments. Malta-Vita is now 10 cents per package, the same big package you used to buy for 15 cents.

STOCKS CONTINUED DULL, BUT PRICES ADVANCED

U. S. Steel, Pennsylvania and the Tractions Were the Strongest—No Important Change in Local Securities.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

During the first half of the session on the New York stock exchange yesterday the sales fell below 100,000 shares. The market continued dull during the afternoon, but a little activity developed late in the day and the total sales reached 201,000 shares. The tone of the market was firm throughout, and prices closed higher.

The comparative ease with which United States Steel preferred advanced 1 per cent to 95 was proof of the smallness of the offerings of the stock, and also reflected the effect of the reports of the increase in the amount of orders coming in for finished products. Steel common was also strong, advancing to 28¼ and closing at 28 bid. American Steel Foundries preferred closed 2¼ per cent higher at 39¾. The other iron and steel stocks were extremely dull but steady in tone. Amalgamated Copper rallied to 79¾ and closed near the highest. The export demand for the metal continues good.

Pennsylvania was the strongest of the railroads, advancing to 136½, but losing part of the gain at the close. It is said a bull pool has been formed in the stock, basing expectations of higher prices on the fact that it is relatively the lowest of the investment stocks, and that its income from securities held is likely to be increased by the declaration of an increased dividend on Reading, and a possible increase on Baltimore & Ohio next month. In addition to this, if industrial affairs are to continue active, Pennsylvania's earnings will increase. Reading was fairly active and strong early in the day, but the final sale was a shade under Saturday's close.

The granger stocks were helped by the improvement in weather conditions, which was verified by the decline in the grain markets. Union Pacific and St. Paul closed ½ per cent higher and Southern Pacific and Atchison ⅜ higher.

In the latter part of the afternoon the strength of the tractions was the feature of the market. Brooklyn Rapid Transit advanced nearly 2 per cent to 65⅞ and closed with a net gain of 1¾ per cent. Metropolitan Street Railway advanced to and closed at 124½ and Metropolitan Securities closed 1½ per cent higher for the day. There was no news on these stocks, but as is the season of year when earnings are the largest and when traders usually bid up prices.

Saturday's bank statement revived some discussion as to the future of the money market. Only once in the last half score of years has the surplus reserve of the banks in the middle of June been as small as at the present time, and the average for this period has been about three times the present surplus. With semi-annual settlements less than two weeks off, and with the period of crop-moving rapidly approaching, it is only natural to look for more activity in the money market, and a revival of activity in the stock market would certainly have an effect upon bank reserves. Still, the market yesterday was if anything easier, the final loan on call being at 2 per cent and the final quotation 1¾ per cent asked. The prevailing ease is no doubt partly due to brokers lending their balances, owing to the absence of use for the same in the stock market.

Commodity markets were active and feverish, finally closing at or near the lowest prices for cotton, wheat and corn. July wheat in the Chicago market advanced to 83½, and had the support of bullish statistics, the visible supply decreasing and primary receipts falling off, but the report of progress with the winter wheat harvest and failure of predictions of unfavorable weather neutralized everything else and the price dropped to 82⅞.

Transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange fell considerably below a thousand shares, and out of a score of securities dealt in, 15 closed at prices unchanged from the last previous sale. Pittsburgh Coal preferred rallied a dollar a share to 74 on sales of 106 shares, and River Coal preferred rallied to 27¼. National Fire Proofing preferred lost ⅝ and Crucible Steel preferred ⅜ on light transactions. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas sold at 64 and at one time during the day was offered down to 63, but just before the close it rallied to 63¾ bid. The remainder of the stock list was entirely featureless.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, June 19.—Money was in demand in the market today, stimulated by a call of $11,250,000 for the Japanese loan, but the effect was not marked, as the proceeds were to be lent. Discounts were quiet. Operators on the stock exchange generally were idle, prices sagged and the market closed undecided. Consols were dull, owing to the uncertainty regarding the monetary outlook. Americans were stagnant at the opening, the changes were trifling at mainly above parity and the tone was steady. They closed quiet. Foreigners moved fractionally. Russians went up, and Japanese were fairly steady. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 108½. Consols for money, 80⅝; consols for account, 80 9-16. Bar silver steady at 27d per ounce. Money, 1@1½ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 2 per cent.

PARIS, June 19.—Prices on the bourse today opened firm, owing to the progress of the Moroccan negotiations, but later trading became dull and stocks at the close were heavy. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 89.12, and Russian bonds of 1904 at 502. Three per cent rentes, 95 francs 70 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 17 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, June 19.—Trading on the boerse today was listless, being affected by reports that a general engagement is beginning in Manchuria. Exchange on London, 20 marks 47 pfennigs for checks.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The bond market, both locally and in New York, has been relatively more active and firmer than stocks. Yesterday Japanese 4½s sold up to their previous record price of 93⅛, but later reacted to 92⅝. There is usually considerable buying of bonds by semi-professional traders at this time in anticipation of an investment demand following the July disbursements, which are second only in amount to those at the beginning of the year. Sometimes this investment demand for bonds precedes an upward movement in the stock market, and some of the bulls are basing their hopes of a revival on a better demand for bonds within the next two weeks. One prominent Wall street trader wired his Pittsburgh correspondent at the close of the market yesterday: "There is but one thing to do, and that is buy stocks and wait for Providence, working through the crops, to do the rest."

One explanation for the recent falling off in the iron trade and in other lines of business is said to be the desire of corporation managers to make a good report of net earnings and cash resources for the fiscal period ending with June 30. The fiscal year of many railroad companies ends at this time, while with others it marks the half-yearly period. This is the case with the Pennsylvania railroad. It is said that this company will make an excellent statement of net earnings for May, and that the half-year showing will be the best ever reported.

On the local board yesterday the dealings in all issues of Crucible and United States Steel amounted to only 65 shares—not enough to establish a market. There were no sales of Pittsburgh Coal common and only 106 shares of the preferred. In the Westinghouse stocks the total was 5 shares Airbrake and 50 shares Electric. It was altogether one of the narrowest markets of the year.

At the close of the market 75 cents was bid for 1,000 shares Golden Anchor. Pittsburgh Reduction was offered at 22⅝, and Window Glass Machine preferred at 25. Pure Oil was quoted at 6¼ bid and Union Natural Gas at 107 bid.

Including United Gas Improvement Company stock and the underlying stocks and bonds of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit system, together with the Philadelphia Electric issues, there are outstanding and in the hands of investors, trust companies and savings institutions and people associated with these enterprises a total of over $205,000,000 public service or municipal franchise securities. The large bulk of this amount is of course held in or around Philadelphia.

The expectation of an early report from the state superintendent of insurance on the Equitable Life investigation was made the basis for some professed hopes of an early clearing up of the speculative situation. But it was announced during the day that this anxiously awaited report might not be published for several days. The hitch which was threatened last week in the peace negotiation was reported to be cleared up, and relations seemed to be improved between Germany and France. The market was thus relieved from depression on those accounts.

The sum of $500,000, the last of the loan of $2,000,000 made to the First National bank of Milwaukee on April 25 by the Milwaukee Clearing House association and several Chicago banks, was returned to the several banks June 19. The fact that the First National has cleared up its debt of $2,000,000 in a little more than one month's time is considered an excellent showing for the bank, which lost $7,500,000 in the Bigelow defalcation besides more than $8,000,000 in deposits immediately following the announcement of the trouble.

Missouri Pacific reported an increase in net earnings for April of $197,352.

Incoming reports of gross earnings of railroads for the second week in June showed the level well maintained above last year in accord with the recent tendency. Railroad traffic officials also spoke in an encouraging vein of the traffic offering and of the promise for the future based on good crop prospects.

The money market continued entirely unruffled, although preparations are making for the coming half yearly settlements. A transfer by telegraph from San Francisco through the sub-treasury of $680,000 was an incident of the day.

The Pennsylvania railroad owns 89,956 shares of Philadelphia & Erie common stock of the par values of $2,499,200 on which the dividend amounted to $139,993 last year. The increase of the Philadelphia & Erie dividend to 6 per cent per annum will increase the revenue of the Pennsylvania stock $69,996 per annum, making the total yearly income $209,988.

Gross earnings of Missouri, Kansas & Texas for the second week in June increased $16,400. For the same week Denver & Rio Grande increased $35,500.

The members of the New York stock exchange have voted to close July 3. It goes to the governing committee for final action.

According to the present program the directors of the American Smelting and Refining Company will, at their dividend meeting today, declare the regular dividends, namely, 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock and 1¼ per cent on the common stock, but three months from now. According to a high official of the company, the common stock dividend will be increased, and it is probable that it will be placed from a 5 per cent to a 7 per cent basis yearly.

The rise of more than 15 points in the shares of the Standard Oil Company over the last two weeks has been accompanied by a number of rumors among them that dividend disbursements this year will be larger than in the preceding year. While no confirmation of these reports is forthcoming, it is claimed by well-informed interests that the earnings of the company this year will be largely in excess of 1904.

MARKET HOLDS STEADY AND PRICES IMPROVE

While There Is No Enlargement of Public Interest, There Are No Signs of Liquidation.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 20.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says:

There was a slight increase in the voluntary stock trading yesterday, but the market still continued one of small proportions and dealings were largely professional. The business of the day shifted somewhat, and a number of fresh stocks were taken in hand by pool and clique operators, but the distribution of relative active features was little if any better than of late.

While, however, there was no enlargement of public interest there were no signs of liquidation. Traders held that since the market would not go down, it wanted to go up, and they worked to bring that result to pass. The market of the day was in consequence steady, with a strong undertone. Prices slowly improved. When signs of irregularity developed the local traction stocks were bid up, and these sustained the general list fairly well.

Nothing of an important nature developed in the way of news, and there was nothing novel in the way of gossip. Little attention was apparently paid by any of the markets, either at home or abroad, to the various phases of the Russo-Japanese peace negotiations. The suggestion was made that another important Japanese victory in Manchuria might complicate the efforts to bring about peace, but this was void of influence.

Foreign markets were reported heavy and sluggish on the Morocco situation, and there still continued the disposition to attribute domestic dullness to the Equitable Life situation, particularly in view of the proximity of the filing of the Hendricks report. Traffic movements at Chicago were reported as moderately good, while railroad managers spoke hopefully of crop conditions. The staple commodity markets led all varieties of crop and weather news, and cereals and cotton were irregular. These features had apparently no effect on stocks.

PROFIT OF $8,000 IN WATER STREET

SUCCESSFUL LOT SALES

A profit of $8,000 in cash in less than one month is what Theodore Cappel will get by the sale of the former Boggs & Buhl warehouse property at 240-242 Water street, which was sold yesterday. The deal is credited to the Commonwealth Real Estate Company, and the exact figure paid was $68,000. Mrs. Hannah Bedilion is the buyer, and this deal puts an end to the rumors that he has been after that she had bought another downtown property. The lot sold is 30x80 feet, and is situated between Wood and Market streets. There is a modern five-story brick warehouse on the lot, which is tenanted by the Standard Scale and Supply Company, who pay $4,000 a year rent and have a lease for several years. Within two hours of the time Mrs. Bedilion had signed the papers in the deal she received an offer of $70,000 for the property. Yesterday's deal figures at the rate of $2,257 a front foot, or $28 33 a square foot. This sale is another striking instance of the peculiar way things go in the real estate market, where a property may often be on the market for months without a prospective buyer and then suddenly be sold two or three times within a month at constantly increasing prices.

Busy Sunday on Lot Plans.

In spite of the intense heat Sunday the day's lot sales were by far the best of any of the season thus far. All the lot companies had a full force of salesmen on their properties and the stream of prospective buyers kept up all day. The Belmar Addition Land Company disposed of 21 lots in its Twenty-first ward plan for a total of $11,725. This plan is on the hillside adjoining the old Belmar place, which was the best selling allotment ever put on around Pittsburgh. Sales in the Murray avenue allotment on Squirrel Hill continue brisk, and D. Behen & Son are receiving congratulations wholesale on the list of 70 actual buyers which they published Sunday. Such a list of actual buyers gives the public increased confidence in the market and shows that the claims made by the managers of an allotment for its popularity are well founded. Keck, Heile & Daschmach had a busy day on the Summit Park allotment, which is being sold off rapidly in acres and half acres.

The Aspinwall-Delafield Company is making rapid progress with the work of grading, paving and putting down sidewalks on the old Delafield farm above Aspinwall. Although the company has not set a date for a public sale, lots are being sold to individuals every day and fully a dozen houses are now assured on the plan. Another small allotment in the West Liberty district will probably be announced this week.

Complain of Lawyers' Practices.

Many brokers are making loud complaints about the practices of certain attorneys in the city and county, who are, they say, robbing the real estate men of their rightful business. It is claimed a large proportion of the lawyers are constantly buying and selling real estate for their patrons and collecting commissions for the same, although they have no brokers' licenses. Brokers also claim these attorneys use almost any means to get their clients to lend and borrow money through the channels they control. Often, it is said, persons who are not fully posted on the ways of the business world will be frightened into the notion that the bank or trust company that has held their mortgage must have the money at once and will not renew it except at exorbitant rates. The attorneys, most of whom have large sums at their command, at this point urge the money borrowers to get their loans from them and then collect commissions for placing the loans. Frequent attempts have been made in some quarters to stop these practices to some extent at least, but thus far nothing has been done and brokers claim that they are being robbed more every year of business that they can do. In many cases cheaper than the lawyer does it. This is another of the evils that might be remedied to some extent if the brokers of Pittsburgh had an association to look after their mutual interests.

LOCAL MARKET LINES SHOW IMPROVEMENT

All Departments Pick Up, and Numerous Changes Are Noted.

All lines of the local markets showed a little improvement yesterday over what they were the last of last week. Business was fair, although prices were marked down some. Old potatoes, which moved up sharply last week, went back to their former price, and new potatoes are a little cheaper. New cabbage has grown lower in price, although the sales are quite heavy and there is no overstock in the market. Indian River and Navel oranges are out of the market now and have been supplanted by Valencias and St. Michaels. Kentucky cherries have passed out and are replaced entirely by the home product, which seem to be abundant. Numerous other changes were made yesterday in the market list, but none of them were of great importance.

The improvement in the butter market last week, particularly the last three days of the week, was considerable, and as a result the price advanced a half cent yesterday. All grades are accordingly marked higher today. The packers are now packing and storing butter, as stated in The Gazette a week or two ago, and this has had a tendency to stiffen the market. Cheese also advanced yesterday, while eggs are firm at 18 cents.

Flour made no move yesterday and is still holding the $6 20 and $6 30 figure, although some dealers are asking 5 cents more. There is considerable shading. Sugars and coffee show no change.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 42 cars hay, 3 cars straw, 10 cars oats, 2 cars corn, 5 cars feed: Baltimore & Ohio, 22 cars hay, 7 cars oats, 2 cars feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 5 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 1 car corn.

Considering that yesterday's receipts were for two days, they are not what might be considered heavy. Grain choked on arrival as receipts have been light, barely sufficient for the demand. Hay is plentiful and demand light. This extremely warm weather, if it continues, will soon have an effect on coming crops and on that account buyers were not disposed to make any further reductions in price, which is surely low.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The shaft of the Saginaw Development Company, which is now down 810 feet, has cut the great water basin of the Warren district, Arizona, which has been tapped heretofore solely by the Calumet & Pittsburgh and, lately, by the Junction. The water immediately rose 100 feet in the shaft and all work was stopped other than the drifting on the 800 foot level. There has been given for a set of pumps capable of lifting nearly 4,000 gallons a minute a height of 1,500 feet. This is larger than either Pittsburgh or Junction plants, or the great machines at Tombstone, which have been noted as the biggest in the southwest. It will be a year or so before this plant can be in place, and in the meantime Saginaw cannot sink. In time this will care for much of the water that has been pumped from the Pittsburgh shaft. Of late the volume pumped from Junction has been slowly but steadily increasing and is now 1,000 gallons a minute, while Pittsburgh has gone down to about 1,900.

Warren Development Company is negotiating for the surface rights of the American ground, which lies adjacent to Warren's town site. The price is the entire deferred payments on the American groups of claims, and will give the company its mining lands for nothing. The latter has just increased its capital from 12,000 to 50,000 shares, of $10 par, and called enough to make the whole issue $1 paid in. It will be some time before the remainder of the cash is called. Warren has already begun the development of the city of Warren, adjacent to Bisbee, and which is likely to rival the Butte camp in time, for it is the only site for a city in the Warren district. Streets are being laid out and graded, and some buildings are going up, notably several for the Calumet & Arizona, which will transfer its entire headquarters to the place.

The Empire State Mining Company, a close corporation of Utica, N. Y., people, has decided to substitute machine for hand-drills soon, and that the tunnel should be pushed to reach the ore body, holding 50 to 60 feet. The Roy Consolidated has made its first report, covering the period of fourteen months that it has been owned by the present company. This shows a total production of silver of $113,000, from 1,458 tons; net profits of $57,932, and 1,232 feet of development work, at an average cost of $15 Mexican currency, or about $7 50 gold.

Bisbee Queen has been sold to strong people, among whom H. A. Smith, formerly chief engineer of the Calumet & Arizona group, for about $62,500. The company owns a large block of claims southwest of Bisbee, and has done little development work. It is supposed the new owners will operate at once.

On account of a break in railway communication between the mine at Bisbee and Douglas smelters, the Calumet & Arizona was closed down two or three days, with its ore bins overflowing. Crook tunnel, on the line of the El Paso & Southwestern, caved in a second time and shut off all train service.

Men from Duluth, Minn., have bought for $200,000 the Apache group of claims and mine near Hachita, just north of the Mexican line. The property has been worked for some years. It is a replacement in time, similar to Bisbee, and what work has been done shows the ore body to be persistent and good. The property was under bond some time ago by Messrs. James T. Hale and D. E. Woodbridge of Duluth, but they decided not to take it up.

A vast amount of work is under way at the smelter of the Calumet & Arizona, both in steel construction and erection of new capacity. There are new dust collectors and boiler houses, and additional boilers are being placed. The additional capacity at this smelter will be blown in in about three weeks. About July 1 there will be railway connection with the Oliver shaft of this mine, and some ore will thenceforward be hoisted from that shaft.

On the Lake Superior & Arizona, a large permanent shaft will be sunk near the Carlisle tunnel. This property has sent out by wagon to the railroad at Florence a number of cars of very high grade carbonate ores. An effort will be made to build a railway from the main line of the Santa Fe branch up the desert near Casas Grande to the mine.

BOSTON, June 19.—The market showed good strength today, although the trading was very limited. During the morning session Wisconsin Central was the leader, but later in the day the reactions were taken hold of and advanced easily. The copper held well with the exception of Greene, which opened up at 21, but under New York selling declined to 21¾, but closed with a small gain at 22. Utah declared a semi-annual dividend of 2½, an advance of a half dollar from previous payment.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5@15 points in response to lower European cables and the absence of any improvement in the Brazilian markets as a result of the small receipts. Trading was not active and there was enough demand at the decline to absorb offerings which came largely from smaller longs taking profits, and just before the close a renewal of European buying caused a partial recovery. The market was finally nearly, but unchanged to 5 points lower. Sales were 37,250 bags, including July at $6 60@6 65; September at $6 55@6 60; December at $6 30@6 35; March at $7, and May at $7 05@7 10. MARKET WEAKENS ON PLENTIFUL HARVEST

Favorable Returns Are Coming in from Wheat Fields—Corn and Oats Are Down.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 19.—Favorable results in harvest operations caused weakness in the wheat market today. At the close July wheat was off 1¼c. Corn is down ¾@¾c, oats ⅞c and provisions 2½c to 12½c.

The wheat market was weak from the start, initial quotations on July being ¼@¾c to ⅝@⅞c lower, at 88¾c to 89c. An advance of ¼d to ⅝d at Liverpool was apparently ignored here, weather conditions in the United States seemingly eclipsing in the minds of most traders all other factors. Reports from the southwest showed that clear weather had prevailed generally since Saturday. In the northwest much rain had fallen, but, according to a report from Minneapolis, little damage had been done by the continued wet weather. Lack of definite reports of damage encouraged considerable selling by pit traders and resulted in July receding to 88¾c. The decline induced moderate covering by shorts. As a result the market experienced a temporary rally, July advancing to 89½c. Sentiment, however, soon became more bearish than before, and prices started on another downward movement. The cause of the renewed weakness was the unanimity of advances from the harvest fields, regarding the unexpectedly large yields. One report claimed that the total crop

LOCAL MEMBERS MAY FORM BRANCH

Pittsburgh Delegates Start for American Society of Civil Engineers' Convention.

GENERAL RAILROAD NEWS

Fifty-six Pittsburgh members of the American Society of Civil Engineers and about twice as many associate members, associates and juniors are interested in one subject particularly before the thirty-seventh annual convention of the society, which begins in Cleveland today and concludes Friday. That subject is the question whether the Pittsburgh members will be allowed to incorporate as a branch of the mother society. This question has been discussed pro and con among the 56 members themselves; some were favorable, while others, who are members of the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania, objected to the formation of the chapter on the ground that the latter society was sufficient to cover the demands.

The matter will probably be settled at the Cleveland convention and other large centers of the society may form branches or chapters of the mother society. Another topic of national interest will be offered in a resolution to the effect that the American society shall suggest names and pass upon applicants for positions on important engineering commissions in which the United States or other large interests are concerned.

The delegates from Pittsburgh went to Cleveland last evening, one party occupying a private car and Pullman car in charge of Chief Engineer S. A. Atwood of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, and the others going over the Pennsylvania lines. Among the Pittsburgh railroad officials who are members are: Baltimore & Ohio, Paul Didier, assistant engineer; Bessemer & Lake Erie, H. T. Porter, chief engineer; Pennsylvania lines, J. C. Bland engineer of bridges; W. C. Cushing, chief engineer, maintenance of way, Southwest system; Thomas H. Johnson, consulting engineer; Thomas Rodd, chief engineer; E. B. Taylor, fourth vice president, and Joseph Wood, second vice president; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Chief Engineer Atwood and E. F. Wendt, assistant engineer; Wabash, George T. Barnsley, resident engineer, associate member. Among other well known Pittsburg members are: E. M. Bigelow, George S. Davison, Emil Gerber, W. L. Scaife, Major W. L. Sibert, Emil Swensson, Benjamin H. Taylor, S. L. R. Tone, George Westinghouse, Jr., and P. L. Wolfel.

It is said the Pittsburgh members will endeavor to have the next convention held in this city, where the seventh annual convention was held in June, 1875. The members will be welcomed by Mayor Johnson of Cleveland, to which a response will be made by President C. C. Schneider of the American society. According to the February official list the total membership of all classes is 3,249.

B. & O. Officer Honored.

O. H. Hobbs, who was appointed superintendent of the Connellsville division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad a couple of months ago, was given a pleasant surprise by his former associates at Baltimore a few days ago. In answer to an urgent telegram from one of the officials at Baltimore, he left Connellsville for the road's headquarters, to find when he reached there that the telegram was an authorized fake to get him there to present him with a handsome gold watch, chain and charm. This present was given as a memento of the esteem in which his former associates on the Baltimore division and his friends in Baltimore hold him. He says he is now ready to time any fast trains the Baltimore & Ohio sees fit to install to compete with the other lines. Mr. Hobbs was formerly trainmaster of the Baltimore division.

N. Y. C. Flyer on Time.

The eastbound Twentieth Century Limited of the New York Central lines arrived in New York three minutes ahead of its scheduled time, and its westbound counterpart arrived in Chicago five minutes ahead of time. The trip was without incident, the both trains being well laden with satisfied passengers. Among the passengers were Mr. and Mrs. James Horlick of Honolulu, who crossed the continent from San Francisco to New York in 84 hours and 12 minutes, said to be the fastest time on record. The Overland Limited was used in the western portion of the trip. Among the railroad officers on the Twentieth Century Limited eastbound were Vice President G. J. Grammer and General Passenger and Ticket Agent George H. Daniels.

Making Thorough Inspection.

A party of Wabash system officers from Pittsburgh is making a thorough inspection of all the system's lines east of Toledo, having started from here Saturday night. The party is headed by First Vice President B. A. Worthington and includes General Manager Robert Pitcairn, Assistant General Manager Solon Higbee, Superintendent of Transportation Frederick Delano, Freight Traffic Manager W. D. Holliday, Superintendent H. W. McMaster, Engineer Maintenance of Way A. C. Hezlep and Resident Engineer George T. Barnsley. Along with the inspection of the lines to determine upon road improvements, the officials are also watching for terminal and station improvements for handling the increasing freight and passenger traffic more expeditiously. The inspection will continue throughout this week.

Serve Lunches on Trains.

Coach passengers on the Pennsylvania lines will not have to run into a restaurant, swallow an egg whole, gulp down coffee and munch their sandwich as they run to catch the train. The management of the dining department has just arranged for employes of the company's eating houses at Xenia, Ft. Wayne, Crestline and Alliance to meet the trains with steaming coffee, good sandwiches and other eatables and to pass through the coaches. This feature will not only obviate the need of patrons running to the restaurants, but will also keep them from occasionally loitering until they miss the train or are hurt in their endeavor to catch it in motion.

B. & O. to Hold Conference.

The usual semi-annual conference of officials of all departments of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will be held at Deer Park, Md., next Friday, probably continuing into Saturday. Beside the general officers the division officers, including superintendent, division engineer, trainmaster, road foreman of engines and master mechanic, will be in attendance and will discuss all matters pertaining to railroading.

Railroad Notes.

President Oscar G. Murray of the Baltimore & Ohio is not expected to continue his inspection westward over the Pittsburgh division until next week.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway has decided to make Sunday a rest day for all departments so far as can be done without interfering with the absolute necessities of traffic.

J. H. Sterling, traveling passenger agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, conducted a special party of 60 nobles of the Mystic Shrine of Wheeling from Pittsburgh to Buffalo on the Buffalo limited yesterday.

L. H. Turner, superintendent of motive power of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, is at Bordentown, N. J., attending the commencement exercises at the military academy where his son is being graduated.

J. C. Craig of St. Louis, agent of the Central States Dispatch, is a Pittsburgh visitor.

W. H. Williams, formerly a Pennsylvania linesman and then a Baltimore & Ohio official, now of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, is here visiting his brother, D. F. Williams, chief clerk to the general superintendent, northwest system, Pennsylvania lines west.

Col. Samuel Moody, general passenger agent, Pennsylvania lines, accompanied by his family, is enjoying a brief outing among the Michigan lakes.

T. F. Burch, the new traveling passenger agent of the Chicago Great Western, assumed his duties here yesterday.

R. G. Goldsborough of the P. B. & W grand division has been appointed supervisor of subdivision No. 2, River division, P. R. R., with headquarters at Kittanning, vice H. W. Fitzgerald, resigned to engage in the contracting business.

MURDERERS ARE THE WITNESSES

Convicts Testify at Trial of Paul Kruger, Charged With Killing a Prisoner.

TESTIMONY IS OBJECTED TO

Paul Kruger, the convict who last week threatened to raise a question as to whether or not he could be called for trial until his attorney, W. H. McGary, was ready to proceed, was placed on trial as scheduled yesterday, his attorney being present and taking charge of the defense. Kruger is accused of killing Charles Turner, a fellow convict, with a knife, after a dispute in the bakeshop of the Western penitentiary. Turner was disemboweled and died in the prison hospital shortly after being stabbed.

District Attorney R. E. Stewart and his assistant, John S. Robb, are handling the case for the commonwealth, while Judge McClung is presiding. The interesting feature of the case was the presence of 16 convicts, who are witnesses in the case, and Attorney McGary's objection to their testimony on the ground they are incompetent witnesses. This was not sustained.

A jury was obtained without difficulty and District Attorney Stewart opened the case by describing the fight in the bakeshop in which Turner was stabbed. Deputy Coroner Church identified two knives and a dough scraper he had secured at the penitentiary when he held the inquest. Dr. O. J. Bennett, resident physician at the penitentiary, described Turner's wounds. One penetrated the heart and caused his death; the others were in the chest, left arm, back and hip, there being five in all.

Stevenson Tells the Story.

William Stevenson, a convict who is just completing a long term for second degree murder, and who was boss of the other convicts in the bakeshop at the time of the killing, was called. Attorney McGary objected to Stevenson's testifying on the ground that he was serving a sentence for an infamous crime. District Attorney Stewart read the law bearing on the question, and the court ruled that Stevenson's testimony was competent.

Stevenson said there had been trouble between Kruger and Turner for some time. The day before Turner had thrown Kruger's gloves, used in handling hot bread pans, from the box where they were kept to the floor, and the men had quarreled. Stevenson said he was about to enter the bakeshop on the morning of the killing when he saw Turner holding Kruger at bay with his hand at his throat. Kruger had a knife in his hand and Turner was armed with a bread scraper.

Says He Saw Him Slash at Turner.

As Stevenson approached, he said, Turner cried out to him:

"Bill, I'm cut, and cut bad."

Stevenson caught hold of Kruger, but the latter, he testified, broke away, saying:

"I don't have to stand this abuse."

"Kruger," said Stevenson, "followed Turner into a small room leading off the bakeshop and I saw him slash several times at Turner. I caught hold of his arm and Turner staggered about the room and finally fell in front of one of the ovens."

Stevenson said he turned Kruger over to one of the guards and Turner was sent to the prison hospital.

Lawrence Lemmick, serving a term for murder; Stephen Yerkies, serving a term for murder; Guy Holmes, Joseph Stanton and John Miller, all convicted of various crimes and serving terms in the penitentiary, were employed in the bake house and corroborated Stevenson's testimony in regard to the fight between Turner and Kruger.

Said He Was in for Fighting.

When Yerkies, who is an Italian, was asked for what offense he was serving time, he answered: "For fighting."

"You are in for murder, are you not?" asked Attorney McGary.

"I guess there was a murder," said Yerkies, "but I didn't know anything about it."

Attorney McGary objected to each of the convicts' testimony, on the same grounds that he had used when Stevenson was called, but his objections were overruled.

The prosecution will close this morning and Kruger will put in his defense. Attorney McGary will call several convicts to testify in Kruger's behalf. In all 16 convicts were brought to court from the penitentiary to testify in the case. They will be confined in the jail until the case is concluded.

Financial and Trade Notes.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The directors of the suspended Merchants' Trust Company today voted to accept the offer of $850,000 made by a syndicate for the Hudson Valley Railway Company stock which is held by the trust company. It remains only for the consent of the court to the sale. In event of the sale being completed, the $850,000 thus obtained, added to $500,000 in cash on hand, $500,000 in New York city bonds held by the company, and $200,000 promised by certain of the directors to be advanced for the purpose, will enable the depositors to be paid off immediately. It is the intention of the board of directors, after the depositors are paid to apply to the courts for an order directing the receivers to turn over the other securities to a committee to be named by the stockholders and approved by the courts. They expect this committee will be authorized and empowered to merger such remaining securities as they best can, and that the stockholders will be finally paid a substantial portion if not all of the value of their stock.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—National bank notes received today for redemption, $1,219,110; government receipts from internal revenue, $1,220,497; customs, $559,842; miscellaneous, $187,-943; expenditures, $1,280,000.

NEW YORK, July 19.—(Special.)—In addition to the resignation of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and his friends, Wall street heard today that at the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company's annual meeting in October the retirement of directors Edward Harriman and James H. Hyde will also be announced. This will result in the virtual reorganization of the entire board, so that it will be composed almost exclusively of Gould men. The Gould plans are said to include extensive improvements at many of the plants, so that the company will be in a position to turn out all the iron and steel needed on the existing Gould lines and on projected Gould lines.
